

Trial of 12 on In Waukesha Circuit Court

Joint Proceedings Begun as Jury Gets Sheriff's Case
SALEN PLEA DENIED
Fails to Get Copy of Testimony to Grand Jury

Waukesha Wis.—(AP)—While a circuit court jury pondered the fate of Sheriff Walter A. Liskowitz on charges of malfeasance today, a joint trial involving Liskowitz and 11 others including former District Attorney Herman Salen, on charges of conspiracy, began before Circuit Judge Sherman E. Smalley.

The malfeasance case went to the jury at 9:30 a. m. today after Judge Smalley in his charge said that "the sheriff has the power to preserve peace and enforce all criminal laws of the state. He should not refrain from arresting violators of criminal laws."

Liskowitz indicted on six counts by a grand jury, was tried on charges of failure to cooperate with other county authorities in cleaning up gambling, and with "tipping off" a tavern operator of a coming raid.

Judge Smalley immediately opened the cases of the sheriff, Salen, and 10 tavernkeepers and slot machine operators charged by the grand jury with conspiracy to violate the gambling laws. They are charged with forming a slot machine ring.

Waive Jury Trial
The defendants waived a jury trial. All were present except John Stuetgen of Fussville who was reported ill.

The defendants including Stuetgen are Salen, Liskowitz, Garland Buckeye, town of Chenequa assessor; Joseph Martin, Debelfield; Otto Schroeder, Waukesha; Clarence Seider, Oakdale; Lester Wood, New Berlin; Edward Woodruff, Pewaukee; Joseph Jaquet, Waukesha; Paul Nowalske, Mukwonago; and Hubert Voss, Delavan.

Claude Sprague, Mukwago tavernkeeper, also indicted died more than a month ago.

Judge Smalley denied a motion made yesterday by Lawrence Brody of LaCrosse, counsel for Salen, to have the court clerk prepare a copy of testimony to the grand jury in his client's case.

Gilbert E. Vandercook and A. W. Richter of Milwaukee, attorneys for all the defendants except Salen and Liskowitz, were overruled on motion to dismiss the conspiracy indictments on claims of double jeopardy. The defendants previously had been found guilty as slot machine operators.

The state immediately sought to establish the fact of the alleged slot machine ring through the first witness called, Victor Manhardt, Wauwatosa coal salesman and one-time pinball machine operator.

Manhardt testified he called a meeting of Waukesha slot machine men at a hotel July 2, 1937, and that Salen, Garland Buckeye, Joseph Martin, Hubert Voss and Clarence Seider were present. He said he urged the formation of a slot machine association.

Manhardt testified the same men met again on July 7 at Waukesha, formed the "Waukesha County Automatic association" and elected officers.

The witness testified dues were set at two or three dollars a machine and $50 for initiation into the association. He said further meetings were held at the Avalon hotel, Waukesha, and at Vogt's home.

Judge Smalley recessed court last night after attorneys for defense and prosecution presented two hours of arguments.

Sheriff Liskowitz admitted on the stand he had telephoned Robert Carrell, town of Pewaukee tavernkeeper, telling him "if he had any

Nobody Here But Us Chickens

The story goes that Farmer Brown, upon hearing a disturbance in the direction of the chicken house, and as he approached the scene armed with shot gun and lantern, "Who's there?" he called, with all the bravado he could muster. A weak, shaky, masculine voice answered, "There ain't nobody here but us chickens." A tactful reply, to be sure, but not very convincing.

LEADS IN RACE
Senator Elmer Thomas Oklahoma New Dealer, was increasing his lead today over two opponents in the state's primary election. The election was considered the first test of President Roosevelt's political tour, since the latter gave support to Thomas.

Senator Thomas Has Big Lead in Oklahoma Race

'Alfalfa Bill' Murray Is Third in gubernatorial Contest

Oklahoma City—(AP)—Senator Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma's silver-haired New Dealer favorite, widened his commanding lead today over two primary opponents in the first ballot-box test of President Roosevelt's political speaking tour.

Former Governor W. H. 'Alfalfa Bill' Murray, frowned upon by the president as "nationally known as a Republican," was running third for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

S Senator Thomas, seeking renomination for a third term, was acclaimed "my old friend" by the president. In his speech here Saturday, Mr. Roosevelt made only passing mention of E. W. Marland, New Deal governor running third to Thomas for the senatorial nomination.

He offered no back-pat at all to Representative Gomer Smith, apparent runnerup in the senate race. Smith voted against the president's reorganization bill and the administration farm act.

Unofficial Figures
The unofficial count in 2,155 of the state's 3,522 precincts gave Thomas 120,549, Smith 95,745 and Marland 58,502.

Leon C. Phillips of Okemah, a New Deal legislator, pulled ahead of Murray and W. S. Key, former state WPA administrator, in the gubernatorial contest.

Murray, no New Dealer, introduced Alf M. Landron, Republican nominee, for a speech here in the 1938 presidential campaign.

The count in 2,157 precincts gave Phillips 90,480 votes; Key 85,028 and Murray 81,002.

Eight Democratic congressmen running for renomination held snug leads.

On the Republican side, where voting was light in contrast to the heavy flood of Democratic ballots, Glasser of Enid was leading three rivals for the senate nomination and Ross Ritzley, former state senator of Guymon, paced a field of three for the gubernatorial nomination.

Seadlund to Die After Midnight

Electric Chair Is Awaiting Kidnap of Charles S. Ross

Chicago—(AP)—John Henry Seadlund, 27, counted off the last fleeting 24 hours of his life today.

Society is taking his life in the electric chair at a minute after midnight for the kidnaping of Charles S. Ross.

United States Marshal W. H. McDonnell set the execution for 12:01 a. m. (C. S. T.) tomorrow. Witnesses will include Martin Ward, assistant federal district attorney, who prosecuted Seadlund; four other citizens, reporters for three news services, three doctors, the Cook county sheriff and jail warden and eight assistants.

Roosevelt Is Asked to Run For 3rd Term

Steel Workers Send Petition to Chief Executive in Colorado

DOESN'T COMMENT
Presidential Train Continues Its Journey Westward

Aboard President Roosevelt's Train Enroute to San Francisco—(AP)—Bearing a petition from steel workers' club urging him to seek a third presidential term, President Roosevelt stopped early today at Salt Lake City, where his daughter and son-in-law boarded his special train, then headed westward again to Nevada.

On board when the train left Salt Lake City at 4:45 a. m. (M.S.T.) after a 10-minute checkup were Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall Boettiger and her husband, John Boettiger, Seattle publisher, who came by plane last night to meet the train.

The presidential special left Colorado last night. At Pueblo, Colo., yesterday the president received without comment a petition from the Colorado Fuel and Iron Workers' club requesting his candidacy in 1940.

Want Him To Run
The petition, representing 3,000 Pueblo steel workers, declared "We are fearful for the welfare of the United States as well as for the world if one less courageous, determined and intelligent were elected in 1940 to guide the destiny of this country."

The president did not make an appearance before the small crowd that gathered in the cool dawn in the Salt Lake City station today.

At Ogden, 35 miles north, Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada, seeking renomination, was due to come aboard. Later in the day, Albert Hilliard, opposing McCarran, planned to join the presidential party at Carlin, Nev.

McCarran opposed the president's court reorganization plan and other administration measures. Hilliard is the son of Judge Benjamin C. Hilliard of the Colorado Supreme court.

What step, if any, the president would take in the Nevada situation was very much in doubt.

Will Stop At Reno
Mr. Roosevelt will make a platform appearance at Reno, Nev. If crowds gather round the train at the various other Nevada stops, the president is likely to say a few words to them.

Truckee, Calif., stop will be the president's first on this trip in the home territory of Senator William Turn to page 12 col. 8

Big Crowd Jeers U. S. Labor Board

3,000 Protest Expulsion of Weirton Steel Company Attorney

Steubenville, Ohio—(AP)—A laughing, jeering throng of approximately 3,000 persons milled in front of the federal building today, flaunting banners attacking the national labor board and shouting protests against the expulsion of a Weirton Steel company attorney from the board's 11-month-long hearing against the company.

A mass parade from the steel mill town of Weirton, W. Va., to Steubenville was abandoned following the transfer of the hearing to Pittsburgh last night, but 200 steel workers came across the Ohio river in buses and automobiles to join several hundred townspeople.

Although visibly disappointed by the shift of the hearing, which one leader said "ruined" the planned demonstration, the crowd cheered Clyde Armstrong, company attorney, barred from the hearing by Examiner E. Grandison Smith, and shouted lustily as Smith was hoisted in effigy from a hotel window.

Hoisted to the shoulders of two brawny steel workers on the steps of a hotel facing the federal building, Armstrong cried: "We never would have been able to carry on over there (waving a hand at the federal building) if it hadn't been for a fine crowd—a group of people like you."

The crowd roared as the straw-stuffed, overall clad dummy bearing a placard "Grandstand Smith" was dropped on a rope from the second floor window of the hotel.

The crowd broke up a few minutes after Armstrong spoke and the Weirton group headed home, less than an hour after they arrived here.

The animals, taken from Moon Lake near Kewaskum, in Fond du Lac county, had caused minor floods there because they built too many dams in outlets of the lake. K. C. Jakoubek, supervisor of beaver control for the conservation department, said.

Beavers were released in Moon Lake in 1928 by the Izak Walton League of Milwaukee, which purchased 1,000 acres of land surrounding the lake to make a game refuge. By 1930 a dam built by the animals had raised the lake level at least a foot.

Cleveland Church Bans Kiss After Wedding Services

Cleveland—(AP)—Faith Lutheran church banned today the conventional kiss at the altar after wedding ceremonies.

Dr. Arthur Carl Piepkorn, resident pastor, announced that the parish also had adopted these regulations:

No rice or confetti shall be thrown at the door of the church.

Wedding rehearsals shall be as few and as brief as possible.

Secular and operatic music such as the familiar Wedding March from Lohengrin, "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me," "At Dawning" and "Because" shall be replaced by ecclesiastical wedding music or the choral nuptial music of the ancient church.

France Launches Drive for Huge Armaments Loan

German Military Preparation Cause of Concern in Paris

Paris—(AP)—A scarcely-disguised French warning to Germany to keep hands off Czechoslovakia was given pointed significance today as France opened a campaign for a huge unlimited arms loan.

At the same time, Premier Edouard Daladier ordered publication in the official journal of a law detailing general organization for the nation in time of war.

Daladier, who as national defense minister and premier, guided the French re-armament program which in six months used up a $5,000,000,000 franc (about $138,500,000) loan issued only two months ago, declared the nation was ready to take strong action to prevent any German-Czechoslovak conflict.

Will Back Treaty
The premier in an address last night held out an olive branch in one hand with a tribute to German "good will" in the face of strong French-British representations in May when fears were felt that German efforts to intervene on behalf of the Sudeten German minority in Czechoslovakia might bring war.

But Daladier also swore to uphold France's treaty with Czechoslovakia pledging armed aid to the central European democracy in case it were attacked.

Insistent reports in Paris of an acceleration of the pace of German military preparations caused ominous feelings in some quarters here.

The new French re-armament loan, in 31 per cent bonds to go on sale Monday, will be negotiable with the Bank of France for 90 per cent of their value from the date of issue and for 95 per cent after six months. It was announced the previous loan, offered May 16 and bought up in one day, covered armament expenses from Jan. 1 to June 30.

Milk Dumped From Two Trucks in Wauwatosa

Milwaukee—(AP)—Several unidentified men early today dumped milk from two trucks of the Fox Guernsey dairy, a Waukesha company, as drivers were making deliveries in Wauwatosa.

George Main, Waukesha, driver of one of the trucks, told police 15 cans of milk were dumped in the street by two men he saw running away.

F. E. Fox, operator of the dairy, said about 35 men picked their plant, saying that most of his men were working. He said three men affiliated with the A. F. of L. truck drivers' local walked off yesterday because he would not sign a closed shop contract.

Menasha Woman Sees 12-Foot Snake in Pigeon Loft; Police Break Out Riot Guns but Big Boa Eludes the Posse

Menasha—Shades of Frank Buck, Martin Johnson and Trader Horn! A search for a snake, a 12-foot long boa constrictor, was organized today off Garfield avenue and around an old barn. The snake was seen by Mrs. Linda Landskron, 402 Garfield avenue, this morning when she climbed into the loft of the barn to look after some pigeons there.

The snake apparently had intended to look after the pigeons too and had somehow managed to climb up 10 feet into the loft, probably by use of boards nailed to two by four uprights to form a ladder. When the snake saw her it apparently forgot about the pigeons. Mrs. Landskron didn't wait to make sure. She departed hastily and called the Menasha police.

Trade Officer Lawrence Janowski and Patrolman Franklin Fahrenkrug broke out the riot guns and sped to Garfield avenue. Arthur Gutzman, member of the fire department who is off duty today, donned his rubber boots and joined the search.

Jay Duval is a fourth person assisting in the search. The men donned rubber boots and started to remove a pile of old rotted lumber about three feet high at the side of the barn. Fahrenkrug attempted to jam a stick through the snake when it was sighted, but it escaped by twisting rapidly through the soft ground and going under the barn.

Mrs. Landskron had heard a disturbance among the pigeons last night and this caused her to investigate this morning. The snake apparently got some of the pigeons, but how many is not known. The snake is expected to be after more pigeons tonight and the men will be ready to complete their job.

The snake apparently is one that escaped from the Greater American carnival when it showed here two weeks ago, according to Police Chief Alex Slomski. The carnival people told police at that time that the snake had died.

The searchers, however, aren't going to "bring 'em back alive." In fact, they just hope to bring it back dead, very, very dead.

Doubt Suspect Is Kidnap of Mattson Boy

Washington Official Thinks Prisoner Is 'Mental Case'

SANITY QUIZ LIKELY
F. B. I. Agents Help Question Man but Think He's Not Guilty

Tacoma, Wash.—(AP)—Chief William Cole of the Washington highway patrol said today he was convinced a man of many aliases, who confessed the Mattson kidnaping yesterday, was "a mental case and had no part in the crime."

Cole said the man, who gave his name as Clarence White, Clarence Thorp, Clarence Mead and Frank Olson, would not be charged with the kidnaping and slaying of 10-year-old Charles Mattson, but probably would be given a sanity hearing.

Cole reached this decision, he said after four days of almost constant questioning, during which the man brought a dozen times and involved several persons who later were found to have alibis.

Cole said the federal bureau of investigation had taken part in the questioning, but expressed no further interest in the man.

Resembles Abductor
Cole, who announced Olson's confession last night, said the prisoner's description tallied closely with that of the man sought for the abduction but that many portions of his story did not check with known facts of the case. He refused to outline them.

Olson was arrested last Friday near Ritzville in eastern Washington and after 36 hours questioning by Sheriff Melvin Ostreich, State Patrolman Jack Crooks and Sheriff's Deputy Joe Schaefer, was brought to Tacoma. He is irrational about a third of the time, Cole said.

Officers indicated an effort would be made today to have Muriel and William Mattson, sister and brother of the slain boy, who were in the Mattson home at the time of the kidnaping, identify Olson's picture. The children now are at a summer camp.

Hopes "He's Right Man"
R. C. Suran, special agent in charge of the Seattle Federal Bureau of Investigation office, had only one comment as he reached here last night to aid the investigation: "I hope he's the right man."

Olson first said four men were involved in the kidnaping. Later he said only three and finally cut the last one off.

Pleads Not Guilty In Shawano County Tavern Slaying Case

Shawano—(AP)—Donald Brown, 28, charged with aiding and abetting the murder of Joe Brings, Shawano county tavernkeeper, pleaded innocent yesterday at a preliminary hearing before County Judge C. B. Dillett.

Brings was shot April 20 as he stood in the doorway of his tavern and died a few hours later.

A first degree murder warrant was issued May 3 for Harry Vanderveke, alias Harry Brooks, who has been charged with fatally wounding Brings, during an attempted holdup of the tavern. Vanderveke has not been found.

Althorpe was picked up Brown on the highway the day Brings died, and, in a statement to District Attorney Louis Cattau he said he and Vanderveke came from Green Bay to Shawano the night before the shooting. Brown, Cattau said, asserted he left Vanderveke at the tavern after the latter tried to persuade him to steal an automobile. Brown claimed he had nothing to do with the crime.

Brillville Luckenbach, attorney for Brown, was asked to file a brief stating why the defendant should not be held. Judge Dillett said it would be several days before he decided whether Brown would be held for trial.

Criminal Charge Against Count Is Ordered Dropped

Barbara's Action Hints at Separation or Divorce Proceedings

London—(AP)—The former Barbara Hutton dropped a criminal charge against her titled Danish husband today with indications that a separation or divorce proceedings would be the next step in her turbulent married life.

The surprise ending of what one of the lawyers called "a most unhappy case" came as her second husband, Count Count Hatzfeldt-Reventlow, reappeared in the shabby Bow street police court dock and prepared to defend himself against the charge that he had threatened the American-born Woolworth heiress.

Solicitors, announcing an agreement under which the 42-year-old count promised to stay away from Countess Barbara's London mansion and not communicate with her, indicated no reconciliation was in prospect.

Up to Danish Courts?
The countess' counsel indicated to the judge that the mysterious "gentleman in London" whom the count was accused of threatening to shoot, did not come into her life until after she had quarreled with her husband.

The countess' attorney, Sir Patrick Hastings, hinted at a shift of the marital dispute to Danish courts in telling the magistrate that any separation proceedings would be subject to Danish law.

The sudden ending of the case disappointed a crowd jamming the tiny court room in the hope of finding out the name of the mysterious "London society gentleman" whom the count was accused of threatening to "shoot like a dog."

But Countess Barbara's attorney said she already had quarreled with the count before she met this "mysterious person."

Settlement Near?
Agreement on the withdrawal of the charge indicated the count and countess might be closer together on the terms of separation or divorce settlement than they were last week.

Testimony was given then that she offered him $250,000 and the demanded $50,000 and custody of their 2-year-old son Lance in return for divorce.

Baseball Fan Is Held in Killing

Another Man Critically Wounded During Tavern Dispute

New York—(AP)—A Brooklyn baseball fan was charged with homicide today after a tavern dispute in which one man was killed and another critically wounded.

The fan, booked as Robert Joyce, 33, a post office employee, was charged by assistant District Attorney Leonard Ruisi to have become infuriated at taunts fellow drinkers made to him about the Brooklyn team.

Ruisi said Joyce told him he drank 18 glasses of beer before the shooting. Frank Harvey Krug, 38, an accountant with the emergency relief bureau in Albany, who was visiting his father, Francis Krug, in Brooklyn, was killed.

William J. Dwyer, 28, bartender of Patrick J. Daumond, owner of the tavern, and Democratic leader of the Eighth assembly district, was so seriously wounded he may die.

Joyce began drinking beer and talking, but the other men at the bar started kidding him about the Dodgers, whereupon he left after telling them he was going to shoot up the place.

He returned to the post office station, got two guns, Ruisi said, came back and shot Daumond.

A waiter wrested one gun from Joyce and he then pulled out the other gun and shot Krug.

No Airmail for Fox Valley Until After Next July

Congress Hasn't Provided The Money, Airmail Chief Says

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
Washington—Establishment of an air mail route from Milwaukee and Chicago through the Fox river valley to the Upper Peninsula of Michigan must wait until at least after July 1, 1939, Air Mail Superintendent Charles Graddick said today.

Congress did not provide sufficient funds for establishment of new routes, he said.

The proposed route is being studied, and is considered "a good route" but there just isn't any money to establish it during the current fiscal year.

S Senator F. Ryan Duffy, Fond du Lac, conferred with Postmaster General James A. Farley and Assistant Postmaster General Harlee Branch in May, to urge restoration and completion of the route which formerly existed between Green Bay and Milwaukee.

The old Fox river valley route, one of the early lines, was discontinued when various "stub lines" were eliminated.

Duffy argued that, if the line were extended to Upper Michigan, the business obtained there, together with the Fox river valley business, would justify the line.

Farmer Is Sought After Postmistress Is Beaten Severely

Stevens Point—(AP)—Authorities today sought a farmer named as the man who Tuesday afternoon struck Mrs. Carrie Kyser, 63, postmistress at Coddington, with the crank of a gasoline pump, fracturing her skull and two bones in one hand.

The man a resident of the Coddington vicinity, had been drinking, according to Mrs. Kyser, who was brought to St. Michael's hospital here today. Portage county sheriff's officers said they believed he also was disappointed in not getting a letter containing a check he expected.

Mrs. Kyser was struck one blow on the head in the post office and store she operates after pumping gasoline into his car. She partially averted off the blow by raising her hand to her head.

Expected to Reach Fairbanks About 6 P. M., Appleton Time

5TH LEG OF TRIP
May be Back in New York About Noon Tomorrow

New York—(AP)—Howard Hughes reported to his flight headquarters at 2:35 p. m. eastern standard time today, that his plane was 903 miles from Fairbanks, Alaska.

One position report came from the plane an hour and 21 minutes after the takeoff. No other positions were given to the New York headquarters until the 2:55 p. m. message, relayed here by the Army Radio station at Seattle.

Yakutsk, Siberia—(AP)—Howard Hughes took off for Fairbanks, Alaska, at 9:01 p. m. tonight (6:01 a. m. Appleton time) on the fifth leg of his attempt to set a new record for round the world flight.

The American aviator and his four companions had remained at Yakutsk only 2 hours 53 minutes after completing their 2,177-mile hop from Omsk, western Siberia.

(Hughes flight headquarters on the world's fair grounds, New York, announced receipt of a message sent from the plane at 7:22 a. m. (Appleton time), giving its position as 64° north latitude, 137° 05' east longitude, over the Chukotka mountains, or about 300 miles east of Yakutsk. (The message, picked up and relayed by the United States Army Signal Corps station at Seattle, Wash., said the plane was flying at an altitude of 6,200 feet.)

(Four and a half hours after his start from Yakutsk aviation authorities in Moscow estimated he had gone some 200 miles beyond the Kolyma river—about 850 miles from Yakutsk—and that if all went well he should reach Fairbanks about 7 o'clock p. m. E. S. T. 1 o'clock, Appleton time.)

Hughes' course traverses some 7,000 miles of soviet territory, and before leaving Yakutsk he telegraphed thanks to Moscow aviation authorities for their cooperation. From somewhere over the Bering sea, he was expected to radio a farewell message to his Russian friends.

If Hughes and his men are able to maintain their present schedule, they will return to the starting place about noon tomorrow, less than four days since they started eastward across the Atlantic.

Last Stop In Russia
Hughes planned to make Yakutsk his last stop in soviet Russian territory. He plotted a course of 2,456 miles to Fairbanks, across the northern tip of Siberia and the Bering sea.

However, preparations for an emergency landing have been made at Anadyrsk, in the north.

Leaving Yakutsk just 60 hours 31 minutes after their takeoff from New York and with two-thirds of the flight completed, Hughes and his companions were far ahead of the time of the late Wiley Post, who girdled the globe alone in 7 days 18 hours 49 minutes in 1933.

Hughes had landed his big monoplane at Yakutsk at 6:06 p. m. (3:03 a. m. Appleton time).

WORKMAN KILLED

Milwaukee—(AP)—August Petka, 24, was killed today in a 13-foot fall from a plank scaffolding at the Alhambra Manufacturing company plant.

Britain Will Not 'Acquiesce' to New Attacks on Ships

London—(AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today Britain was "not prepared to acquiesce in repetition of attacks of a certain character" on British shipping in Spanish waters.

He also disclosed that the government's effort to form an international commission to investigate bombings of civilian cities in Spain had been unsuccessful. Another announcement was that Sir Robert Hodgson, British agent in insurgent Spain, would stay in London for "the present."

Chamberlain said Britain had rejected as "unacceptable" insurgent General Franco's suggestion that Almeria be made an "immune" port for British merchantmen in government Spain.

Disclosing a new note from Franco insisting that his fliers had not bombed British ships deliberately, the prime minister reiterated that "ships trading in ports in the war zone must accept the risks which are an inevitable result of war."

Increased Farm Income Seen as Prices Advance

Major Commodities Up 5 To 37 Per Cent During Last Two Months

Chicago.—A general recovery of major farm commodities values during the last two months has increased prices 5 to 37 per cent and altered the 1938 agricultural outlook, an analysis of Chicago markets disclosed today.

Wholesale prices of nine important commodities which help to gauge the extent of farm prosperity have risen an average of 19 per cent since the broad upturn from a four-year low level began late in the spring.

Hogs and cattle, a major source of farm income, have led the upturn with a price increase of 24 to 31 per cent. Eggs are up 31 per cent. The important grains are 9 to 12 per cent higher than the 1933 lows reached scarcely six weeks ago.

The gradual rise of livestock quotations began almost a month before the recent sharp bulge in securities, confirming to some extent livestock experts' belief that the meat animal market is an important indicator of general business conditions.

Prospects improved.

Market statisticians said the price recovery may result in a revision of 1938 farm income prospects. The bureau of agricultural economics has forecast a reduction in cash income of about 11 per cent compared with the $8,521,000,000 in 1937, which was the highest in eight years.

Improved consumer demand for meat and increased exports of such important income producing commodities as corn, pork and lard have helped bolster the market statisticians' view. The June recovery in securities also added weight.

Government buying of some commodities, such as butter, also has been a factor. Spread of rust in the wheat belt, helping to cut the prospective harvest from slightly over a billion bushels to 967,412,000 bushels, second largest in history, has influenced the grain market.

a. m., Appleton time) ending the fourth leg of his flight.

The weary aviator immediately snatched a brief rest. The weather was fair.

At Omsk Hughes was greeted warmly by representatives of the regional soviet executive committee and newspaper men. In a brief interview he said it had rained heavily between Kurgan and Omsk. He flew at an altitude of more than 8,000 feet.

Hughes and his four companions landed here just 57 hours 48 minutes after their takeoff from New York.

The dash here from Omsk was made at more than 200 miles an hour, much of it through adverse weather. Rain was encountered soon after leaving Omsk.

Hopoff From Omsk

Hughes and his companions lifted their silvery monoplane from the airport at Omsk at 4:37 a. m. (3:37 p. m., Tuesday, Appleton time).

The takeoff from Omsk started the fliers into the second half of their 14,250-mile trip back to New York, which they left Sunday night.

Seven hours out, Hughes reported his position north of Lake Baikal, 1,500 miles from Omsk. His top speed had been 210 miles an hour, and his altitude was 11,000 feet. He asked by radio for more precise data on conditions over mountain ranges along his route, where no emergency landing fields would be available in the event of mishap.

Hughes, accompanied by Navigators H. P. Connor and Thomas A. Thurlow; Radio Engineer Richard N. Stoddard, and Flight Engineer Ed Lund already had flown from New York to Paris, 3,641 miles; Paris to Moscow, 1,675 miles; and Moscow to Omsk, 1,380 miles.

The fliers spent about four and one-half hours at Omsk. Hughes drinking tea while the ship was filled with gas. Their flight from Moscow required 7 hours, 35 minutes; New York to Paris, 7 hours, 49 minutes; Paris to Moscow, 7 hours, 49 minutes.

Enroute to Omsk they crossed the Volga river at Kazan, 400 miles out of Moscow; passed Sverdlovsk on the west side of the Ural mountains, almost in Asia, and were sighted next when they landed here.

Wisconsin Hunters Want Deer Season When Tracking Conditions are Favorable

Madison.—(P)—Wisconsin nimrods want a seven day season on fork horn buck deer when conditions are good for tracking and the dangers to the hunter are at a minimum.

They informed the state conservation department of their wishes last night through their representatives on county game committees. Sentiment for a reason to start Nov. 19 was strong.

Only two of the thirty counties in which deer hunting was legalized for three days last year came to the meeting instructed to vote for a closed season. Delegates from Vilas and Price counties argued mildly for a deer hunting holiday, but retreated before the overwhelming insistence. The final vote was unanimous.

The counties in which hunting was recommended include Adams, Ashland, Barron, Bayfield, Burnett, Chippewa, Clark, Douglas, Eau Claire, Florence, Forest, Iron, Jackson, Juneau, Langlade, Lincoln, Marathon, Marinette, Monroe, Oconto, Oneida, Polk, Price, Rusk, Sawyer, Shawano, Taylor, Vilas, Washburn and Wood.

As season on black bear concurrent with the deer season was recommended in all but seven of the northern and central counties. Delegates of Clark, Eau Claire, Jackson, Juneau, Monroe, Oneida and Vilas counties were recorded as opposed to an open season this year.

The committee men recommended that the state again prohibit the use of shotguns loaded with buckshot or slugs, particularly the 410 gauge, and 22 caliber rifles. Both types of weapon were described as ineffective, crippling and dangerous.

In voting for a season to start Nov. 19 the committee men went against the wishes of the conservation department for an earlier season. Even the plea of H. W. MacKenzie, conservation director, failed to shake the delegates' belief that the leaves should be off the trees and there should be snow underfoot when the thousands of hunters invade the woods.

MacKenzie's plea that there are not a mass of bootleggers up there ahead of the game getting bucks they can sell to hunters who drive up and make a "kill" without even getting out of their cars, MacKenzie said, "Let's pick a time when the deer have the most cover—give the animals a chance."

MacKenzie contended that there would be less "long crippling shots" and "you won't be able to pick off deer like rabbits" if a date late in October, when the leaves still were on the trees, were selected for the opening.

H. S. Kleeber of Sau county said, however, and others agreed, that the danger to the hunters would be greatly increased during an early season when it would be hard to distinguish between a deer and a man in the underbrush. Others insisted they wanted conditions in which they could track their quarry, since trailing of deer with dogs is prohibited.

When the final vote was in Dr. H. O. Schneiders of Wausau pleaded for reconsideration, declaring that the mid-November date would come in the heart of the rutting season when the deer are most unwary. He failed to change the decision.

Surveys indicating that there are numerous bucks left in the northwoods, despite the off-year on season last fall were presented by the conservation department to refute a claim from the floor that one delegate counted 59 deer on a fishing trip in Sawyer county this spring and "there wasn't a buck among them." The department's drive reports indicated there was at least one buck for every three deer.

Tentative approval was given to a 30-day bow and arrow deer hunting season to start Oct. 8 in Grant, Iowa, Dane, Sauk, Columbia and Richland counties.

Fixing a license fee, customarily $1, was deferred on suggestion of Dr. Schneiders who said numerous requests had come to the legislative committee for a fee of $2. Earlier Director MacKenzie insisted the department was not promoting a deer season for the revenue, declaring that "anyone that says that is crazy." The additional $1 fee, Dr. Schneiders said, would be used for better deer protection and

Marijuana Weed Growing Wild in Beloit District

Beloit.—(P)—At least 50 acres of marijuana is growing wild in this vicinity, it was disclosed today in a survey made by narcotics agents connected with the United States Treasury department.

The agents estimated it would cost about $50,000 to hire men to eradicate the dope weed, but that an eradication project might be undertaken without great expense if organized on a volunteer basis as a public service.

Robert W. Blumer, Beloit chief of police, said the department would cooperate in any volunteer move to eradicate the weed.

Madison.—(P)—Walter Ebling, crop statistician for the United States Department of Agriculture, said today that hemp, which is used to make marijuana cigarettes, grows wild all over southern Wisconsin.

He said that hemp once was grown commercially in Wisconsin on a large scale for use in the manufacture of rope and that about 1,300 acres were grown by Wisconsin farmers last year, chiefly in Fond du Lac and Green Lake counties.

Slight Decrease In Relief Cases Here During May

641 Families in Outagamie County Receiving Help, Report Shows

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison.—General relief cases decreased in Wisconsin from April to May for the third consecutive month, but although the reduction was almost 10 per cent, expansion of the rolls of the federal works programs resulted in a decrease in the total relief load of only 34 per cent between April and May, the state department of public welfare announced today.

The total number of families receiving either direct relief or employed on public works programs in Wisconsin in May, the department said, was approximately 103,500, compared to 106,400 for the previous month, and 83,470 for May of last year. The general relief load decreased in all but seven of Wisconsin's 71 counties from April to May, and the average monthly grant continued to fall. Average grant was $18.21 in May.

Total relief expenditure in Wisconsin during May was $824,553, the department disclosed.

The following tabulation, prepared from public welfare department material, shows May figures on the number of cases, the per cent of change from the previous month, and the total grants to relief causes for all of the counties in the Appleton area:

County	Cases	Change	Grants
Outagamie	641	-2.3%	$13,811
Brown	788	-0.7%	14,770
Calumet	81	-10.0%	1,866
Shawano	264	-6.1%	4,750
Waupaca	342	-9.8%	8,201

Federal Spending At New Peacetime Maximum Figures

Nearly 25 Million Being Disbursed Daily Under Program

Washington.—(P)—The government stepped up its spending pace today to the record peacetime average of $24,890,000 a day ordered by President Roosevelt. This is $3,613,000 a day more than last year's average.

The president revised his January budget estimates for the fiscal year which began July 1 in order to account for the emergency relief and public works programs. He calculated the treasury would collect only $5 for every $9 it spent, piling up a deficit of about $4,000,000,000.

For relief alone, he said, $2,135,000,000 would be needed—enough to support 3,000,000 persons on WPA rolls until next spring.

Mr. Roosevelt indicated a belief that business would improve enough to taper off the relief load in March.

He estimated, however, that $500,000,000 must be voted by congress to carry relief expenditures from March 1 to next July 1. It approximates the total for the first eight months of the fiscal year.

Major Estimates

Salient estimates in the revised budget broke many records, including:

Public debt—To rise from current $37,200,000,000 to all-time high of $40,650,000,000 by June 30, 1939.

Expenditures—To increase $1,319,000,000 above last year's figure to record peacetime total of $9,085,157,000.

Receipts—To decrease $1,241,000,000 from last year's total to $5,000,270,000.

Deficit—To increase $2,560,000,000 from last year to a gross of $1,081,887,600. Excluding debt retirement, it would be $3,984,887,600. This was exceeded in peacetime only in 1936, when the soldiers' bonus was paid.

Borrowing—Between $2,100,000,000 and $2,805,000,000 to be borrowed from the public this year, compared with a net decrease of $377,000,000 in privately-owned treasury securities last year.

National defense—To increase $76,000,000 from last year to a record peacetime total of $1,050,000,000.

Interest on debt—To increase $50,000,000 to a record total of $976,000,000.

The navy, embarking on an ultimate $1,200,000,000 ship building program, was put down by the president for $500,000,000 of spending this year, which is expanding its air and sea coast defenses, was booked for $150,000,000.

The cost of helping the farmers overcome problems of surpluses, soil erosion, drought and other hazards, was figured at $700,000,000 this year, an increase of $240,000,000.

The billion-dollar program of financing public works, the president said, will take only about $400,000,000 out of the federal purse this year.

Major payments will not be due until the projects are completed, but contractors and business meanwhile will be putting the money in circulation.

Gene Fields Will Feature Outdoor Theater Program

Tonight's Entertainment Includes Eddie King, Ukulele Soloist

Gene Fields, an "impersonator and one of the famous Roxy gang," will feature the first of a series of Outdoor Theater programs at 8 o'clock tonight at Pierce park.

The program was scheduled for last Wednesday but was postponed until tonight because of rain. The summer entertainment will be sponsored by Appleton merchants and is managed by Edward F. Mumm, 214 E. Brewster street.

Eddie King, a ukulele soloist just back from Hollywood where he was featured on the Fred Allen and Rudy Vallee air shows, will be another of the act entertainers. A comedy team, Jerry and Wilbur, who closed last week at the Chicago State Lake theater, also will be featured.

Juggling Mathews of the Orpheum circuit will add his talents to the program together with a clown who does tricks of magic. Eileen and Gene, a singing duet, and two other acts also will be included.

Arrangements are being made for seats to accommodate the crowd and a loud speaking system has been installed. The Outdoor Theater also operates in Madison, Beaver Dam, Oshkosh, Green Bay and Marinette.

1938 Will Mark Another Year in America's Retreat From World Wheat Market

BY MORGAN M. BEATTY

Washington.—(P)—The year 1938 is all set to go down in history as the eighth year of the great American wheat crisis.

It marks another year of America's reluctant retreat from the world wheat market—a retreat that began to take a definite trend in 1930.

All the big wheat-growing nations of the world are raising good wheat crops this year. It begins to look as if they will pour four billion bushels of the golden grain into the world's bread basket. Four billion bushels is 900,000,000 bushels too much wheat.

True, calamity could overtake part of the crops. Bugs or disease could do a lot of damage. Or a war could come along. In that event cautious nations would store wheat. But it's doubtful that those things will happen. The best thing would be a revival of world trade.

Unfortunately, America's 80,000,000 wheat acres will contribute more than their share to the glut of grain. They are going to yield a new record crop—close to one billion bushels.

Stem rust, the fungus growth that stunts little wheat grains, is doing its utmost to reduce the bumper American crop, but the rust got started late. The experts figure it can't take over 150,000,000 bushels. That would still leave an ear-record crop.

They're Doing It Now

Together with last year's surplus, the American public can eat up half the expected billion bushels.

What's to be done with the other half?

Sell it to other nations? Fine chance! America's big competitors will have plenty of wheat, and will be struggling like mad to get it on the world market. Dump it on the world at cut-throat prices? The other fellow can dump wheat, too, and come out on top, because his money is not as good as ours.

The government is trying to arrange to peddle some of the American surplus in an orderly way to other governments at reduced prices. The taxpayers would take up the slack.

The crop comes along before the New Deal has had a chance to show what its new formulas for the wheat farmer can or cannot do. Bumper crops are a handicap for crop control, crop insurance, the ever-normal granary, wheat quotas, and all that. Those schemes require payments to farmers to cut down their production and to bolster home prices. The more the acreage is cut and the lower the world wheat price, the more it costs the government (which is the taxpayer) or the farmer.

It Was Easy Once

There are many reasons for the great American wheat crisis. But by and large, foreign competition for the world wheat market has been the No. 1 trouble maker.

Between 1860 and 1930, American wheat growers had the inside track on a downhill pull. They had the world's richest, easiest-to-cultivate, and most extensive wheat lands. They developed the lands with machinery. In 1893 they were supplying 51 per cent of the world's exported wheat.

Our growing population required more and more wheat to make bread for the homelands. But even so, America still had one-fifth of the world's export wheat market in 1929.

But all along, Canada, Australia, Argentina, and Europe's Danubian basin were closing in. For instance, Canada contributed a mere 20,000,000 bushels to the world in 1900. In 1936, she exported 12 times that much.

Tariff Walls Go Up

And as if to complicate an already cockeyed situation, Uncle Sam was constantly raising his tariff walls. Then a few years after the World War he stopped lending money to European nations. These things cut off from foreigners the supply of money they had been using to buy American wheat. Then other nations began raising their own tariff walls in the late 20's.

The drought years — 1933-37 — knocked the American farmer out of the world market. True, he had a piece of good luck in 1937. A wheat shortage in other big exporting nations handed him 18 per cent of the world market, which meant the sale of around 90,000,000 bushels.

But 1938 is a different story. The American farmer planted 80,000,000 acres to wheat, close to a record. This time he guessed wrong. There is no wheat shortage abroad.

City Home Expenses For June Total $683

City home expenses for June amounted to $683.07, according to a report issued today by F. A. W. Hammond, city relief director. Twenty-one persons were cared for at the home during the month. Two cases were discharged during the month leaving 19 cases on July 1.

Amle Choice of Progressives for Place in Senate

Confidential Survey Among Party Chiefs Revealed His Strength

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau)

Madison.—What may be considered as the most significant development in Progressive party politics this summer is the revelation of the results of a secret poll of representative party members throughout Wisconsin on the question of a candidate for the United States senate contest this fall.

The poll, it has been learned from a reliable informant close to the Farmer-Labor-Progressive headquarters in Milwaukee, was sponsored by the FLFP a few weeks ago, and this week resulted in the federation's endorsement of Rep. Thomas R. Amle for the senate as the first choice of the party.

Running second in the 2,000 ballots cast was Lieut. Gov. Herman L. Ekern, popularly supposed to be the LaFollette choice for the senate. Third was Rep. Gerald J. Boileau of Wausau, who abruptly withdrew his bid for the FLFP endorsement on the eve of the executive board meeting last Sunday. Fourth, significantly, was Adj. Gen. Ralph M. Immelt, whose activities during the last year have indicated to many observers that he is eager to get into state politics as a candidate for a high office.

Use 2,000 Ballots

Governor LaFollette was not considered in the ballot, it was learned, on the assumption that none of the other candidates would oppose him if he were to become a candidate for the senate.

The 2,000 ballots, it was revealed, were distributed throughout the state in proportion to the varying local strength of the party, on a scientific basis as developed by the several national survey polls now in operation.

Balloting was carried on in complete secrecy, and the results were told to the 19 members of the FLFP executive board at its Madison meeting last Sunday in a closed session. It was especially significant, it was said, because the names of the Progressives to whom ballots were sent were taken from the party's official lists, so that many of those voting were presumably old-timers who might be expected to support Mr. Ekern above Amle, one of the relatively young leaders of the party, and one whose political philosophy varies in many important respects from the old LaFollette ideas.

In another sector of state politics today politicians were showing intense interest in the "Progressive" Democratic-labor union coalition underway in Rock county, traditional stalwart Republican stronghold. Representative Progressives and Democrats, together with important leaders of the local labor movement, have agreed, it is understood, to run the same candidates in the Progressive and Democratic primary elections in September.

And to support those who receive the highest primary vote in a fusion campaign against the Republicans in the November election.

The Rock county coalition is especially significant in the face of the organized Republican-Democratic conservative coalition which has been underway for many months. Rock county Democrats, it was said, acted partly to show their displeasure with the action of the Democratic convention at Fond du Lac last weekend.

Under the CAPITOL DOME

BY JOHN A. WYNGAARD
Madison—Jottings from the notebook of a reporter at the Democratic state convention in Fond du Lac.

Jim Farley's hankering for the presidency is worthy of emulation by top-flight politicians. With hundreds milling around to shake the hand of the man who reputedly made Franklin Roosevelt president of the United States, Farley waded through the long rows of delegates and townsmen in a remarkably efficient manner. He shook one hand put the other on the shaker's wrist, gently but firmly pushed him along and grabbed the next.

Women, plainly praised by Mr. Farley, got plenty of attention at the convention. It is interesting, too, how the ambition of wives sometimes keeps husbands in the swirl of politics. One very prominent Wisconsin Democratic politician's wife very frankly admits that she intends one day to be mistress of the governor's mansion, that she is now grooming her husband to become governor.

MARRIAGE AND POLITICS

There are two schools of thought on the political effect of Candidate Jerome Fox's bachelorhood. Some interpreters, who see into have the benefit of the lessons of history, believe a family man makes the best candidate. Others maintain a young bachelor will get out the feminine vote.

Irishmen dominate state Democratic politics in conventions at least. Glance over these names, the roster of speakers at the principal banquet: Corcoran, Givan, Broughton, Cavanaugh, Duffy, Fitzsimons, O'Brien, Congressman Reilly and O'Malley should have been there, but were not. And at the business sessions there were the same names, and Clifford, Fox, Curry, Donnelly.

Former Governor A. G. Schmiedeman appears to be the most popular man in Wisconsin Democratic today. Now necessarily removed from active political work as the result of his leg amputation, he nevertheless walked to the platform at the principal session and announced his devotion to the New Deal (he is state director of the FFA), and his intention to participate in the state campaign this summer.

On hand too was former Congressman Hughes of the Eighth district, likewise recently handicapped by the loss of a leg. Hughes was one of the principal figures in the Schmiedeman administration, along with Leo Crowley, during the hectic days in 1933 when Wisconsin Democrats, no whit less surprised than their opponents, found themselves in office for the first time in many years and in control of the state government. Hughes regaled caucus sessions with anecdotes of the Schmiedeman administration, when he was the Washington contact man for Schmiedeman and Crowley during the birth of the New Deal and his long distance telephone bill ran into staggering figures, and when he was Schmiedeman's campaign manager in 1934. Hughes is devoted to the former governor. "We belong to the same lodge," he observes ruefully when he contemplates his missing limb.

CONVENTION TRIVIA

Conspicuously present was W. E. O'Brien, member of the state highway commission whose term expires next year. O'Brien, a Schmiedeman appointee, is rumored to be in line for the post of WPA administrator if the Democrats succeed in their desire to oust Progressive P. D. Flanner. And the Democrats are really in earnest about getting control of the state WPA office, that from high party sources.

Nominated for the most succinct remark in a convention of windy speeches: Gerald Clifford's observation that the Wisconsin Coalition movement "is so dead that no re-incubated undertaker could be induced to call for the remains."

Senator Harry Bolens, when asked whether he was a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, as his brother was industriously reporting, replied: "If the convention would name me, I would be a candidate, as I would have been at any convention for the last 30 years." Not many politicians are so frank.

LOG JAM

The biggest log in the state's political logjam continues to be Gov. LaFollette. And he, of course, is fully aware of the confusion which his indecision is causing in his own camp and that of the enemy.

From LaFollette's own circle now comes the information that he has several times made up his mind what to do, only to change it again the next day. It appears to be a matter of the would-be governor's desire to govern on the national front with his cross and emblem National Progressives of America if he could feel certain that the successor of his choice would not be beaten this fall. A defeat at home this autumn would be a heavy blow to his new party, especially in the light of his differences with Mr. Roosevelt, and would set his own political career back several years at least. LaFollette's state ticket must win this fall if NPA is to thrive.

In the meantime indecision reigns also in the Republican and Democratic headquarters. As speakers at the Democratic convention put it, Wisconsin politics today is truly a crazy quilt.

CAPITOL SIGHTS

Orland S. Loomis leaving his statehouse office with a bulging brief case late Sunday afternoon brief case late Sunday afternoon exhibiting copies of a Scotland newspaper which printed in full his now well-known speech titled the "Jew in Politics." . . . Highway Commission Chairman Davlin getting some tips in a delicate situation at the governor's office.

Progressive jobholders comparing notes on the difference in prices charged by Phil's NPA buttons. The price depends on salary, the temperance depends on salary, the temperance depends on salary, the temperance depends on salary. . . . Capitol chamber worrying whether a new floor-scrubbing machine will take their jobs. . . . Legislative candidates trying to get the governor to commit himself, others urging him to campaign in their districts. . . . The wily smile of Director Garey of the bureau of personnel, from whence most state jobs come. Garey has taken more punishment for his bureau's acts during the last year than in any three previous years. . . . Political publicity artists at work in the legislative reference library, the richest source of material on state affairs available, compiling the dynamite which their candidates will explode tomorrow.

POT-POURRI

A Republican candidate for state office this year was hit upon a novel, and perhaps an effective, campaign stunt. He will distribute post-cards at his meetings to old-timers with the suggestion that they send them to friends with a sentiment something like this: "Blok is a good fellow; let's get behind him." The chain letter is brought up to date.

Senator LaFollette is having prepared for him the heaviest Wisconsin speaking schedule of his career for this summer and fall, according to headquarters. LaFollette will be sent out to counteract the open courtship by Senator Duffy and his organization of the Roosevelt Progressives in the state.

Among the minor problems now faced by the governor's office is that of filling the post of district attorney of Florence county, from which the incumbent resigned under fire a few days ago in a slot-machine investigation. It seems that there were only two lawyers in the county; the second is the county judge. Note to Young Progressive barristers: Apply now, east wing, state capitol.

WHY FALSE TEETH WEARERS HAVE BAD BREATH

Millions Suffer Without Knowing!

You can't notice any odor from your plate or bridge—but others can! Dentists call this odor "denture breath" and it's serious. It comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum is almost invisible—but it can make your breath so bad that friends shudder. It can breed decay-bacteria that infect your other teeth, actually hurt your health and spoil your pleasure.

Ordinary brushing can't get this scum off plate or bridge—can't protect you against "denture breath." But just try Polident! Polident not only cleans—it actually purifies plates and bridges without brushing. It gets every bit of scum, tarnish, stain and odor—dissolves it away and leaves your plate sweet and clean as new.

Your breath will be fresher, your mouth feel cleaner—and your plate last longer and look better. Polident is approved by dental authorities. Good Housekeeping and tens of thousands of delighted users. Long-lasting can cost only 30¢ at any drug store.

THEY CALL THIS THE WORST TO DATE

The much harried National Labor Relations Board has just broken all previous records by handing down a decision that certainly is a humdinger. The case isn't a very important one. It involves a little manufacturing plant up in Maryland. But the principle at issue is as big as life.

As we read the facts it is difficult for us to believe our senses. Surely this is becoming a dream world. For the board has ruled that the employer has actually committed a crime because he distributed among his workers copies of a speech made by Congressman Hoffman of Michigan chastising the CIO.

The board traces its alleged power to that paragraph of the Wagner Act which defines "an unfair labor practice" upon the part of an employer to exist in case he "interferes with, restrains or coerces employees" in the exercise of their clear-cut right to resort to collective bargaining.

The situation has not only become absurd, it actually rests upon the borders of insanity. And yet, is it not a very ordinary and to be expected manifestation when little men are placed in power by someone like Mr. Lewis who purchased the right to recommend their appointment to the President?

Following the leadership of the Great Liberal, the successor to Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln, according to his own speeches, we have finally arrived at the point where men are to be put behind the bars because they circulate a congressional address. If that isn't one for the book it's at least enough to make Goebbels and Goering gasp in astonishment.

Observe critically what these wild men do when you give them the reins, how they lash the mettlesome steeds into a furious pace and carry the great coach of state bounding and swinging along precipitous roads with yawning chasms ever in view. What do they care when the wine of power has gone to their heads? What is the constitution and the priceless privileges it has secured to men of their caliber?

Was the Wagner Act instituted for such a purpose as this? Cannot the rights of labor be secured by intelligent freemen without the garrote tightened around the windpipe? These are fair questions because if this board is to be sustained and its rulings enforced we have already placed the employer on the same bench with those in Vienna and Rome with whom we have been sympathizing so much.

The possibilities under this ruling are limitless. If this is the logic of liberalism why not make the Abundant Life certain by creating a crime every time those who seek to discourage others from voting the Democratic ticket open their mouths? Why should not all the Protestant churches band together and make it a state's prison offense for a Catholic mother to teach her religion to her child? What is to stop the suppression of every phase of opinion, political, economic, religious, racial or otherwise? Wouldn't it be simpler to relieve mankind of its vocal chords or at least cut them out when used to argue against even some of the most atrocious blunders in parliamentary practice that have been offered by the New Deal?

This decision is enough. It passes the bounds of decency. No longer need any man or periodical point out the danger in $600,000 contributions, in specially tailored laws to keep the shekels rolling in, and in specially appointed boards that put the Ogpu and Gestapo in the shade.

Yeah. "We planned it that way."

YOUNG ROOSEVELT SMOKED OUT

James Roosevelt, America's nearest approach to a crown prince, says he will shortly answer the Saturday Evening Post article which gave the details of how he cashed in on his father's job. All at once this young financial wizard has come to the conclusion that "the public is entitled to a clear statement of all the facts so they may judge for themselves."

Mr. Roosevelt made up his mind to take the public into his confidence just in the same way that Kluxer Black thought it advisable to make a radio address. Publicity finally forced the great Klan statesman and jurist to admit the truth which a dishonest attitude had helped to conceal from the public. Black kept mum and let his friends and spokesmen deny a taint that would have prevented his elevation to the supreme bench until a correspondent who had more energy and gumption than the senate dug out and published the facts.

Young Roosevelt followed exactly the same course. He used administration idol worshippers to hush up every Republican attempt to get at the charge that he was virtually getting a rake-off on White House power through the shoddy means of throwing insurance business, a method that has already been effectively used by some of the worst and most corrupt political machines in our big cities.

But now, all of a sudden, young Roosevelt is surprised to find that he has a public office and the people have a right to know something about these apparently truthful charges. So, like Kluxer Black, he is forced to face the truth.

Even a plea of guilty, like Kluxer Black's admission over the radio, is looked upon as better policy than merely a surly silence.

THE DEATH OF A SPY

As dawn began to lighten the worn and bombed city of Hankow a beautiful Chinese girl, Lei-Lai by name, was led out to face a firing squad that the gleaming eyes of her countrymen sighted along polished rifle barrels might be the last impression upon her vivid memory as she was hurled like a rocket into eternity.

They called her the oriental Mata-Hari, a name that will live long among the sinister shadows that flicker about when armies and nations are the pawns and souls are sold because hearts are marble.

Lei-Lai was caught with the goods. A draft for $20,000 sent to Hankow through a foreign bank in Hongkong proved her death warrant. But if she cared she had a perfect way of concealing her emotions. A raid on her quarters produced further documentary evidence that she was one of the ringleaders of a Japanese spy system, well paid and well supported. The Chinese preferred to know what she could tell them to taking her life. They offered her freedom and safety if she would reveal the secrets she had learned in Tokio's employ. Smilingly she declined. She thought such duplicity on her part would be dishonorable. And this from one who had sold out her country, the friends of her youth, the soil of her fathers! Strange people, these spies.

The comparison to Mata-Hari of the World War shows many points in common. Each was a dancing girl and somehow carried even into the grimmest work a human may undertake the light and careless abandon of fantastic steps. Each faced the leveled rifles with a pretty smile, devoid of guile, the sort of smile with which one greets a friend, and accepted annihilation as she might have taken a proffered cigarette from an acquaintance. The French were so shocked back there twenty years ago at the serene nonchalance of the original Mata-Hari as she stepped out on her last dawn that they accounted for it by declaring her indifference was induced with the ruse the cart-ridges were blank and her body would be carried out to be resurrected by her friends, a story designed perhaps to steady nerves that shook more than those of the spy.

More likely those who toss away life just when it is supposed to be sweet have emotions that have been calcined into rust. They are rare and supreme exceptions to the plan after which people were built and only the roaring furnaces of war develop and expose them.

THE LIFE WE LEAD

Among other things the Committee on Population Problems recently reported to the President that its survey indicated that "half the occupied hospital beds in the United States are assigned to patients suffering from nervous and mental diseases."

For purposes of accuracy the committee spoke of mental deficiency as a largely inheritable condition and of mental sickness as a largely acquired condition. The mentally deficient may be dropped from consideration excepting as their deficiency may be traced by science to the mental sickness acquired by their parents due to the sort of life we lead. But the mentally sick, the millions of nervous breakdowns, the neurotics and neurasthenics, the hysterics, and phobic retreatists, what of them with our life of speed, go-get-it, dinner in New York and breakfast in Los Angeles, and the mad rush for money, money power and political power? Do our business standards today demand more of human flesh than it can give? Willingness and courage are not involved. But there is a limit to what men and women can stand by way of strain and worry, sweat and fear, anger and envy. It is now well accepted in medical circles that these strength-sapping cares are luxuries and those who indulge in them freely find themselves upon hospital beds alongside those others who may indulge carelessly in alcohol.

But to realize that such a large percentage of our numerous hospital beds in this country are occupied by those who have licked themselves in the game of life as we play it in America might induce a little slowing down of the speed of those who seem never to tire until some day the ambulance comes.

A Verse for Today

WELCOME, LITTLE BOY:

Dale Harrison's In Old New York

New York—A gay jitterbug, slap-happy from Swing, swaggered off the dance floor of the Hotel New Yorker's Summer Terrace, turned to his partner, and exulted:

"Oh, boy, am I hot!"

He certainly was. So was his old man. So was Aunt Susie and Uncle Joe and the hundreds of other diner-dancers in the Terrace. And because they were hot — thermogenetically, not metaphorically — the ice in the nine-ton tank used for the ice skating entertainers was "sweaty." "Sweaty" ice, paradoxically, isn't so hot, as any skater will tell you.

It sounds silly, but an unexpectedly large crowd can put wrinkles in the skaters' brows at the New Yorker. The combined heat thrown off by their bodies is so great that it may "sweat" the ice—that is, melt the top of it and cause a thin layer of water to form.

Eric Wait, ice skating comedian at the Terrace, says "pimpily" ice—ice with small bumps in it—is another hazard skaters find occasionally even when every precaution is taken to have the surface perfect. Even in air-conditioned dining rooms like the Terrace, "weather conditions" are factors that have to be considered, Wait said.

The ice tank used at the Hotel New Yorker represents a $40,000 investment. It is the only tank, Wait says, that rolls onto a dance floor and then off again when the show is finished. The ice tank at the International Casino, the only other spot in town where an ice show is being featured this summer, is covered over for dancing.

The weight of a nine-ton tank of ice doesn't do a dance floor any good, either. The New Yorker management solves this problem by laying a complete new dance floor surface every few months.

Surprisingly enough, an unexpectedly large crowd, while "sweating" the ice, will not raise the temperature of the atmosphere in the Summer Terrace perceptibly. This is explained as being due to the fact that air conditioning can be adjusted immediately to combat the added heat generated by the increase in the number of diner-dancers, whereas the ice-making machinery isn't so amenable to surprises.

"There has been a sharp upturn in interest in ice skating entertainment in New York this summer. Probably it is attributable in large part to Sonja Henie's sensational exhibitions at Madison Square Garden last winter."

Chorus girls, quick to sense the trend toward ice ballets, are now registering with booking agencies that they not only dance and sing but that they also are skaters—if they are, of course. Several hundred girls are now listed by New Yorker agents as skaters. Most of them are from Canada, upper New York state and Minnesota where they learned skating as children.

All the principal Broadway movie theatres are air-conditioned now, and many of the legitimate theatres. This is comforting, but it is a problem, too, especially for those persons whose business requires them to be in and out of theatres several times a day. To emerge from a semi-icebox into a street where the sun is blistering and the sidewalks are hot even through the soles of the shoes causes summer colds and digestive complaints. So, at any rate, I've been told.

On those days when the Manhattan heat becomes almost unbearable, the sidewalks in front of such theatres as the Paramount, the Romy, the Capitol and the Music Hall become popular loitering places for people grateful for the cold blasts that generally escape through the entrances. Some of this relief, however, is discounted by the heat that pours down from the brilliantly lit marquees.

In the middle Fifties, near Park Avenue, is this sign: "Don't Keep Off the Grass!"

This is all right with me; but there must be a lot of dogs who, despite all the free schools, still can't read.

Looking Backward

10 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, July 11, 1928

Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee, announced he would spend a few days with President Coolidge on the Brule river.

A total of 45,664 automobiles had been licensed in Wisconsin so far that year. This was about 4,000 less than registered on the same date the year before.

About 100 men gathered at John Sigl's hotel on College avenue for a farewell party on the occasion of Mr. Sigl's retirement from business.

Construction of a new hall for the South Greenville grange to replace the building torn down was to start soon.

Fred W. Giese announced he was a candidate for sheriff on the Republican ticket.

The marriage of Miss Joan Mills, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. N. P. Mills, and James F. Bray, took place that afternoon.

25 YEARS AGO
Wednesday, July 16, 1913

Lightning struck the Tuttle Press plant during a storm the day previous, but caused little damage. The dome of the new $60,000 Wisconsin capital was struck by lightning and caused some damage.

A marriage license was issued to Howard Jack and Mary Miller, both of Hortonville.

Concrete paving on Union street was delayed by inability to find laborers, it was said. Green and Sons also were having trouble finding enough men to complete their job of laying water mains.

H. H. Thiel, Appleton, had been elected president of the State Letter Carriers Association at their convention in LaCrosse. Appleton was chosen as the 1914 convention city.

The new organ donated to All Saints church by Mrs. Rertin Ramsay was to be dedicated the following Sunday.

Nell Duffy had returned from New York where he spent a few days watching production of a picture at the Tannhauser Company studio. One scene alone cost $800 and took a day to complete, he said.

Your white wardrobe, your clothes, tiny shoes, and soft wool hose.

All the house is swept and clean.

We knew you were coming!
In the garden, leaves are green;
Birds and bees are humming.
Rains have washed the trees and flowers.
Freshening this world of ours.

But that bigger world outside
Is confused and shattered.
We can hear on this glad day
Warring sons this morning ride!
Families are scattered!
Cannons booming far away.

But where you were born, such peace
Falls upon your pillow.
Surely every gun must cease
Where the great waves billow.
For the Sea treats all men
To come back to God again!

Welcome, little boy, so near
Heaven's shining portals.
Still there sound in your pink ear
Welcome to the budding earth
Songs of the immortals!
That is sweetened by your birth!

A Bystander In Washington

Washington—It may be there are members of Congress singled out for political execution by the president's "purge" board, but you could never find them among those remaining away from the president's "Save the Liberals" train.

The president had no "purge" territory in his path short of the Far West. And news reports indicated that western New Dealers and "purgeables" alike made plans to meet the train at the state border and ride with the president until the conductor put them off.

Cheer Up, Young Grads

As the president tours the country we are glad to note at least one sign that life is hopeful for the ambitious. Whittman college at Walla Walla, Washington, sends a letter to inform us that one of its 1937 graduates, brilliant and persistent, has become a top-flight radio announcer, and so young, too.

Our forte is not radio announcers but Bill Field of Dear Old Whitman wanted to be one. So he plugged away at a payless job on a local station while he was in school, meantime gobbling up all the records for oratory and declamation.

He also kept his summers open for tryouts at a Chicago station for troyouts at a Chicago station was turned down as often as a Horatio Alger hero. But now he is broadcasting from WBBW, Chicago, where he is featured as the young, big-time announcer in the U. S.

The man who supplies us this information is Victor Shawe, who writes some of the too-flight western stories published not in the "pulpwoods" but in the good-priced smooth paper periodicals.

"I send you this dope," he says, (he is an old friend of ours, else he wouldn't say dope), "believing it may prove of value to the hundreds of thousands of young men who can't find a job."

It Would Be Something

One of the novelties that could come out of this summer's campaigning is for a father and son to be elected to the senate from two different states.

Benjamin C. Hilliard, Colorado state supreme court justice, is seeking the Democratic nomination for the senate against Senator Adams. Just on the sunny side of the Rockies from Colorado, in Nevada, Albert Hilliard, son of Justice Hilliard, is running for the Democratic nomination against Senator Pat McCarran.

Both the Hilliards are hot for President Roosevelt, while both Senators, Adams and McCarran, once were looked upon as possible subjects of the "purge" although such noises about them have died out in late days.

Overhead at the Willard Hotel coffee shop:

"You can say all you want about this Tommy Corcoran but that boy is going to be remembered a long time. After all, Alexander Hamilton was only a Tommy Corcoran of his day—the guy with the fast brains that Washington used."

France Has Put On Bold Front

(France's "temporary dictator" is Edouard Daladier. Three months ago, he was named premier and was granted large powers that might enable France to meet the concentrated drives given to Germany and Italy by their real dictators. How has he succeeded? Here is the record.)

Paris — (4) — When quick-tempered Edouard Daladier was named premier of France on April 10, his country faced another financial crisis, there was another outbreak of strikes and the foreign situation was reaching the crisis stage again because of the Austrian trouble.

"No one cherishes democracy more than I who come from the working classes," declared Daladier in one of his speeches. "But," he warned Frenchmen in another, "unless the nation goes to work, France may expect a dictator to make it work."

Three days after he took office he was voted power to rule by decree. That meant that the blue-eyed, stocky Daladier, although he had little power in comparison with a Hitler or a Mussolini, was "temporary dictator" of France.

Works For A Strong France

The premier went to work to restore the Frenchman's confidence in his country's ability to hold its place in the sun. He appealed to French patriotism in a way that French could not ignore.

"War threatens Europe," he said in effect, "and France has been weakened. We must work to make a strong France, or France is lost."

He strengthened the nation's armed forces, solidified an alliance with Britain as an offset to the Berlin-Rome axis, laid the base for a three-year economic program and brought about at least temporary peace between capital and labor.

He also devalued the franc nine per cent. Both actions were unpopular with Frenchmen, but he seems to have convinced the nation that both were necessary. And he has cut tourists' costs to help bring money into the country.

Defense Loan Oversubscribed

Daladier played no favorites. His increased tax decree hit capital hard, but he hit labor, too, when he told it the 40-hour week law could not be carried out to the letter.

On May 14 a defense loan of $140,000,000 was announced. The next day the government reported that the French people had oversubscribed the loan. On May 24 the government came through with a three-year, $304,000,000

EXCUSE THE INADVERTENCE

A reader who calls himself a "perennial peruser" of this column took time out from his professional work the other day to express his appreciation. He said that if everybody followed the admonitions given in this column there would be far less work in the restorative dentistry field for him to do. He thinks too many readers who never trouble to say what they think are like the hog in the orchard gobbling whatever fruit he finds on the ground without ever looking up to see whence it came.

Recently, I said here, in reference to the prevention of malaria: "... it is possible to prevent the breeding of mosquitoes of all breeds, whether of the malaria-carrying breed or others, by keeping premises clear of old cans, bottles or other trash which may hold water long enough for mosquitoes to breed in it (ten days to two weeks) by keeping covered and rainpools unobstructed; by screening cisterns, open wells, garden pools, rain barrels and other receptacles or tanks holding water (against access of the female mosquito seeking quiet water to deposit her eggs); by planting minnows in ponds, pools and streams whose borders or shores are week-grown and more or less stagnant; by draining...

Here is where I became a little too intent on my pursuit of the quarry...

... by draining marshes and swamps; and finally by spraying oil day, for wrong conceptions may be the rule rather than the exception.

If a woman and July 14 is your birthday, there is as much danger in your underrating your ability as in overrating it. Many people born on this date are either extremely egotistical or lacking in self-confidence, so be sure that you do yourself justice by making a conservative estimate of your ability. You are probably economical without being stingy, and very practical in your methods of helping friends in financial difficulties. You are apparently painstaking and accurate in any work that you might have to undertake involving figures. You are likely to gain a great deal of valuable knowledge through actual experience. You might find it difficult to forget or forgive an injury. If this characteristic exists, it should be corrected. As an office executive, purchasing agent, sales representative, specialty shop or restaurant manager, author, artist or musician a splendid career and unlimited earning capacity may be awaiting you. Your home life with a husband and children evidently will provide you your greatest happiness.

The child born on July 14 usually learns quickly, has plenty of ambition, and an uncanny ability of doing things with a surprising amount of ease. Throughout life this youngster ought to be able to do better than to simply hold his own under all circumstances and conditions.

If a man and July 14 is your natal day, if you put your shoulder to a wheel you should make wonderful progress in the right direction. Among some of the activities in which you might succeed best are: dentistry, chemistry, medical or legal work, writing, acting or preaching.

TEXAS REPTILES

Clarendon Tex.—(7)—Reptiles are living "off the fat of the land" this summer, herpetologists report. Horned frogs, toads and prairie snakes are fatter than at any time in 20 years because of an overabundant supply of grasshoppers. Reptiles stuff themselves on them.

ZWICKER KNITTING MILLS HUM WITH BUSINESS UPTURN

When American business and industry suddenly began to sprint recently, after lagging with slow and uncertain steps during the winter, the Zwicker Knitting Mills on N. Richmond street, manufacturers of mittens, began to hum with renewed vigor. The above picture was snapped within the mitten-knitting factory as women busied themselves over their tasks. There are 450 of them employed at the mill. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Waupaca Man Says He Liberated First Jack Rabbits in Wisconsin

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison — Buy Mumbroe, chairman of the Waupaca county conservation committee, takes the credit for introducing the first jack rabbit into Wisconsin, 38 years ago.

In response to researches undertaken by the state conservation department, Mumbroe in a communication to the department volunteered the information that "W. A. Bugh of Wautoma and myself were the first and only ones to set them out, as we got a shipment of 12, four males and eight females from Nebraska the latter part of March, 1900, and released them about four miles north of Wautoma in a large rye field."

Be A Safe Driver

Mitten Knitting Business Follows Nation's Upswing

Business at the Zwicker Knitting Mills, 416 N. Richmond street, is going right along with the upward trend throughout the nation.

In a slump earlier this year because of the depression and certain other factors affecting the mitten knitting industry, the mill is now operating at 90 per cent of capacity production, according to Dewey Zwicker, president.

"We first noticed our gain about a month ago," Zwicker said yesterday. "Last fall's depression retarded buying and on top of that there was a mild winter, particularly in the east. Climate conditions affect our business. We're busy now making mittens for next fall and winter."

There are 450 girls at work in the Zwicker mill now, and in the past month they have been able to work more hours because of the upturn in business. One of the new products which is being manufactured at the mill is a ladies' white angora mitten, steadily gaining in popularity.

The Zwicker business has become seasonal in the last few years, the president said yesterday, for this reason: Four or five years ago the manufacture of women's summer gloves kept the mill busy during the winter. Since that time, there has been an invasion of the American summer glove market by Japanese and Italian firms and then a change in style in which the summer glove lost a great deal of its popularity. Now the Zwicker company can find reliable markets only for its winter goods, and thus must operate on a seasonal basis.

Business at the mill isn't quite up to what it was a year ago, however, Zwicker said yesterday. Then the mill was operating at full strength.

Janitors Recondition Old School Furniture

A miniature furniture plant has been set up in the shop department at the new senior high school where old desks, seats and other furniture is being reconditioned for use in the new school.

William Eggert, superintendent of school janitors, is in charge and has a crew of about 10 men in charge. Old seats are being sanded and re-finished and will be fixed wooden bases so that they can be moved in classrooms.

Old desks, used by teachers for years, are being transformed into shining pieces of furniture that never could be recognized. Most of the furniture used in the old school will be used at the new school.

licenses still are available at the police station. Fees must be paid at the treasurer's office.

$33,000 Is Voted At Annual School Meet at Kimberly

Growth in Enrollment and Added Teacher Cause $2,000 Increase

Kimberly — A tax levy of $33,000, as recommended by the auditing committee, was voted for the ensuing year at the annual meeting of school district No. 6 in the high school assembly room Monday evening. Last year the levy was $31,000. The clerk explained that the increase was due to an addition of a new teacher and that the school has grown considerably. Two new teachers will succeed Miss Eunice Hockenbrock, home economics teacher, and Herbert Simons, commercial teacher. Both have accepted positions elsewhere.

Joseph Dupont was elected treasurer for a period of one year to fill the unexpired term of John Van Elsen, who has moved from the village recently. One hundred and eighty-four votes were cast of which Dupont received 118, J. T. Doerfler was reelected school clerk for a three year term and received 170 votes out of a total of 194.

A communication from J. R. Gerriets, principal, who is attending summer school at Washington, contained a brief summary of the work done during the school term. He also explained that in fall about sixty five students are expected to enroll as freshmen, and that about fifty candidates will report for football, which is a considerable increase over previous years.

The voters approved continuance of the book rental system, adopted in 1931-32 which is $3 a student per year for high school and $2 a child per year in the grades. A ballot showed 135 were in favor of the rental system while 37 voted against it.

Henry M. Williams stated that he had written in regard to this matter to State Superintendent John Callahan and to the Outagamie county superintendent, Henry Van Straten.

Mr. Van Straten's letter stated that out of 123 schools in Outagamie county, 87 now furnish free textbooks. Mr. Callahan asserted in his reply that in the state of Wisconsin 97 cities furnish free textbooks. Mr. Williams said that if this school district would approve free textbooks, it would only cost approximately $150 a family per year for the upkeep.

Mr. Doerfler stated that schools referred to in the communications, were all smaller schools and that a deposit must usually be made by the student at the beginning of the school term. This is not returned to the individual until the books are returned in good condition at the end of the school term.

System Successful
Mr. Doerfler asserted that the rental system has worked out very successfully. At the end of the school term the student receives a small refund as a premium providing that the books have been kept in good condition. This he continued is part of the student's education and if the free textbooks were allowed he feared that many of the books would be misused, costing the school unnecessary money to purchase new books more frequently.

Menasha is the only school in this vicinity which has a rental system, such as Kimberly, the clerk said, and that in many of the other large schools the student must pay full amount of the books purchased to be used for the school term.

Financial statements covering the records of the clerk and treasurer as audited by E. A. Dettman, Appleton, were approved. Mr. Dettman will again audit the books for the coming year. The voters adopted a nine month school term as in previous years.

The salaries of the district officers were again fixed as follows: Clerk, $125; director, $50; and treasurer, $50. The school board was given authority to borrow money in case of emergency. The rate of tuition students was John at $72 per year for high school students and $36 for grades.

The voters allowed $300 for the coming year for activity work which will include: baseball, basketball, football, forensic work, one-act plays, debate and track meets.

The auditing committee appointed for the coming year includes Joseph Mennen, Alex Malcolm, Sr., and Henry Stiers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Attfield and daughter Maxine of Butte, Mont., left for their home this week after spending a week at Mrs. Attfield's sister, Mrs. C. A. Barrand.

Lake Rises, Crops Battered as Storm Sweeps City, Area

Clear Weather Is Forecast Here for Tonight And Tomorrow

Rain, wind, and lightning ganged up in Appleton and vicinity last night and today, further threatening grain crops, damaging electric light wires, flooding town roads, and whipping Lake Winnebago into an angry maelstrom.

Relief from the rain and wind appeared imminent today as the sun reappeared in the sky early this afternoon and the Milwaukee weather bureau promised fair weather tonight and tomorrow.

Lake Winnebago, frothing under a gale last night and this morning, overran its north shoreline and crept around many cottages, it was reported today. Lightning, which flashed overhead in this vicinity for several hours yesterday afternoon and last night, blew out a transformer in Menasha and burned out a motor in Neenah. The Wisconsin Michigan Power company plant reported wires down in the city from wind and falling branches.

Cooler weather is expected over most of the state tonight and tomorrow, although temperatures will remain about the same here. At 1:30 this afternoon the thermometer atop the Post-Crescent building registered 80 degrees.

STORM IN STATE

Milwaukee—(U)—Hail, wind, and rain struck in a series of storms in portions of southeastern and central Wisconsin last night and early today, swelled creeks and rivers, and did considerable damage to small grains and other crops.

Waukegan, in Lake Michigan county, was visited by three storms at 10 o'clock p. m. last night and at 3 and 7 o'clock a. m. today. Streets were flooded and crops damaged. The creek connecting the Crawford river and Rock Lake was the highest in years as heavy rain hit the northern part of Jefferson county.

Kenosha county farmers reported small grain fields, some corn, broken, and cabbage crops set back two weeks.

Lightning Fails

A violent electrical storm which accompanied the rain in Milwaukee and vicinity, plunged portions of the city in darkness as lightning systems were incapacitated. City power also failed for a time at Watertown.

The weather bureau at Milwaukee reported .28 of an inch of rain there, .76 at Wausau, .42 at La Crosse, and .64 at Madison.

Hailestones flattened grain along the Mississippi river near Fountain City, which suffered considerable damage during a cloudburst last week. Surging water swept mud over hay fields. Tombstones in the Fountain City cemetery were blown over.

Rain, Lightning Can't Scare Concert Crowd

Angry skies and periodic showers couldn't keep a good-sized crowd away from Pierce park last night as the 120th Field Artillery band appeared in its fourth concert of the summer, the first since the band returned from Camp McCoy.

Despite the inclement weather, the band presented its entire scheduled program, which featured Herbert E. Lutz and George Acker, trumpet players; Edmund J. Marty, trombonist; Laurent Bernhardt, vocalist; Arlen Amus, accordionist; and Richard Hoehne, baton-twirling drum major from Kaukauna High school band.

Woman Admits Being Drunk, Fine Remitted

Sylvia Holzschuh, Appleton, pleaded guilty of drunkenness when she appeared before Acting Municipal Judge Fred V. Heinemann in municipal court yesterday afternoon and was fined $5 and costs. Judge Heinemann remitted the fine upon payment of costs of $3.20. The defendant was arrested July 3 in the town of Grand Chute by county police.

slot machines, to get them down and keep them down."

The call was made, the sheriff related, after a deputy had left the office with Thomas Davies, Waukegan carpenter who wished to sign a complaint.

Earlier several deputies testified they knew of the existence and operation of slot machines in Waukegan county last summer but had made no arrests because they received no definite orders from the sheriff.

Liskowitz denied slot machines were in operation at a tavern he had visited and testified he never at any time gave "any deputy any instructions to keep out of any place or not to take any person's machines."

Kramer and Rieth Attend Fish, Game Parley at Madison

Emil Kramer, county conservation warden, and Anton Rieth, Kaukauna, are in Madison attending a 2-day meeting of the fish and game committee of the state conservation department which opened yesterday morning.

Delegates from every county in the state were expected to attend the meeting to discuss open seasons for hunting and fishing various species of game and fish. Outagamie county's fish and game problems were thrashed out at a meeting of sportsmen June 17 at the courthouse when Rieth was named chairman of a committee to attend the Madison meeting.

Open seasons and conservation problems of game were discussed today and fishing problems were settled yesterday.

Retailers Oppose Canvass for Blind Scheduled in City

Chamber Condemns Flower Sale Saturday as a Typical "Tag Day"

The retail division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce today condemned as "annoying" a flower sale scheduled here Saturday by the American Brotherhood for the Blind.

The council on the evening of July 6 granted the American Brotherhood for the Blind permission to sell paper flowers on the streets of the city Saturday. Proceeds according to officials of the organization, go for the aid of blind people.

The city's retailers followed up a circular letter sent out yesterday with recommendations that the sale not be supported by the city's residents and organizations, because the brotherhood does not submit a report on funds collected here and how they are spent.

"This sale is nothing more than a tag day," the chamber letter states. "For years, the chamber has been opposed to tag days in Appleton."

The one project of this type which has the chamber's sanction is the annual Poppy sale conducted by the Oney Johnston Post of the American Legion and auxiliary, Kenneth H. Corbett, secretary of the chamber, said today. None other has the chamber's approval.

The chamber in its circular letter listed four reasons for opposing the flower sale scheduled to be held in the downtown business section Saturday. They are as follows:

1. "Tag days annoy shoppers and visitors in Appleton";
2. "People do not donate to a tag day because they believe in the cause. They contribute to gain freedom from further solicitation or because they like the appeal of the solicitor";
3. "Funds from tag days are very difficult to audit. Furthermore, they place temptation before the solicitors, who are often minors";
4. "Nearly all large responsible welfare and charity organizations conduct tag days for the above reasons, and because they do not see an opportunity to interest the donor in their work or secure from him an equitable measure of support."

Realty Transfers

The following real estate transfers were filed today at the office of A. L. Collar, Outagamie county recorder of deeds:

Mary T. Lottner to St. John the Baptist congregation, Seymour, an acre of land in the town of Seymour.

Maggie Kobalak to Frank Kobalak, about 70 acres of land in the town of Oneida.

Theodore Utschig to Ben W. Rowland, a lot in the Sixth ward, Appleton.

Carl W. Krause to Andrew Dorn, part of a lot in the Third ward, Appleton.

Nellie M. Studley to Carl R. Gebke, a lot in the Fourth ward, Appleton.

Carl M. Zschachner to Frank H. Vanden Boogard, a parcel of land in the Fifth ward, Appleton.

County Republicans to Select New Chairman

An open meeting of the Outagamie County Republican club to name a new county chairman will be held at 8 o'clock next Monday evening at the courthouse. Elmer Honkamp, district Republican chairman, resigned as county chairman last week. The executive committee met Monday evening and will make its recommendation of a new chairman at the meeting next week.

Receive 10 Bids for College Property Fill

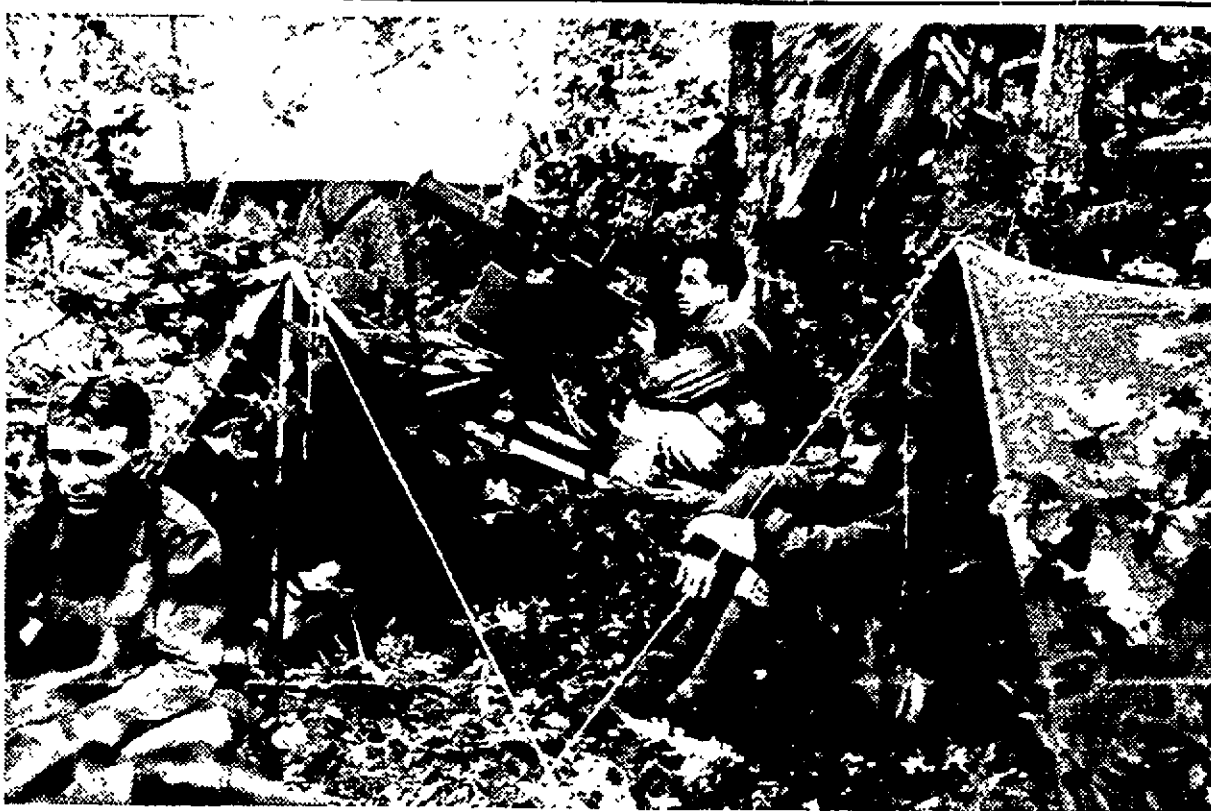

Bids on hauling of 18,000 cubic yards of earth to be used as fill on Lawrence college property at the rear of Science hall were referred to the city engineer for tabulation by the board of public works yesterday. Ten bids were offered. The proposals will be considered by the board at a meeting this afternoon in city hall.

Conservation Club Takes In Seventeen New Members

Seventeen new members were admitted to the Outagamie Conservation club at a meeting last night at Greenview Gardens. Distribution of pheasants to be received from the state conservation department Thursday was discussed. The group also talked about getting more fish for planting in county waters. About 150 sportsmen attended the meeting.

The sheriff said there had been few raids during the last summer because of heavy work of other nature.

District Attorney Scott Lowry, recalled to the stand, testified on cross examination he could not remember the names of witnesses who had told of slot machine operations in the county. As a state witness Lowry told of letters exchanged with the sheriff concerning the slot machine situation, one of which instructed Liskowitz to proceed immediately with an investigation of gambling in the county.

COMPANY D MEN IN BIVOUAC CAMP BEFORE MANEUVERS

Nelson Club Liquidates Treasury to Avoid Taxes

BY A TIRED SOLDIER
Camp Douglas — The company moved its guns out to the drill field Monday morning and the men went through several problems which covered the defensive side of machine gun work. Sighting and aiming exercises were held and various instruments for finding range and angle of sight for the gun were discussed.

Private Kneip remarks that in case there are any ambitious neighbors near his house they could keep the weeds down in his garden. Monday was carried out in true "home" fashion. The greater part of the men in the company were washing so they will have clean clothes during the last week of the camp.

Private Don Mayo is one of the more ambitious men in the company. He goes from gun squad to gun squad offering his services for cleaning the gun in order to learn the parts and the assembly. Private Bob Kramholz furnished cake for his table today and Private Al Gardner says he has gained about six pounds since he came to camp. Private Larry Amons likes his eais as well as any one in the company but he says that the K. P. detail is the bunk.

The "Nelson Club" members tell us that their treasury is nearly depleted as the result of a party.

To Escape Taxes
They held the party, they said, to avoid paying revenue tax on the money they had collected. Sergeant "Red" Doro woke up this morning with his head at the foot end of the bed. He claims that he did this to foot the flocks of mosquitoes which swarmed around the camp last night.

Private Tom Zerbel thinks he should rate at least a major's commission according to his size. He says his chest is big enough to carry all the medals in the company but that it is beginning to slip groundward slightly. Privates Ben Bloch and Kermit Maynard are running a little competition as to who gets the most letters. Both were greatly disappointed when neither received any mail today.

Kitchen police for today were Privates DeLeeuw and Kuchenecker and Sergeant Doro was in charge of quarters. The new men of the company are setting up refreshments for the "old timers" but the veterans were a little roped in having to furnish the difference in funds when the amount contributed by the rookies did not come up to expectations.

Efforts of Thieves At Business Places Prove Unsuccessful

The Wisconsin Auto Wrecking company, 1216 E. Wisconsin avenue, was entered sometime last night but nothing was taken, it was reported to the sheriff's department this morning. A combination lock had been broken off a safe after entrance was gained by breaking a window.

An attempt was made to burglarize the Tillman Grocery store, 1016 E. Pacific street, sometime last night but it was unsuccessful, according to Chief of Police George T. Prim.

Police are investigating a series of burglaries and attempted burglaries that have occurred in the city during the last two weeks and last night's attempts may have been committed by the same person or persons.

Waukegan — The Little White Schoolhouse association is to hold its annual picnic at the Old Settler's picnic grounds at Ogdensburg July 17. Following the lunch hour a program will be given at 2:30 which will include games, horse shoe contests, softball and swimming.

The "new school" built in 1917 has replaced that built in 1876. A student in the first school, E. E. Russell was for 12 years principal of the new school, and will be present at the annual reunion.

The annual Old Settler's picnic is to be held on the grounds Aug. 18.

It Is Said--

That even though Arthur Hartzheim, assistant city electrical inspector, is not afraid of ghosts, he had a rather spooky feeling shortly before midnight last night. The Oneida street bridge tender was unable to open the bridge for a boat passage about 11 o'clock last night and called the city electrician and assistant who found that a relay coil had burned out. In order to prevent further delay in opening the bridge, Hartzheim had to crawl out on a girder under the bridge and provide a contact while the bridge swung open slowly over the dark, murky water.

number to two. The second man he named was arrested and released last night when Olson again contradicted his story and said that man was not involved.

Cole described Olson as slender with sharp, dark features. He said Olson wore a cap and shuffled as he walked, his head thrust forward and his eyes darting from side to side nervously. This description is similar to that given by the Mattson children of the kidnaper.

Cole quoted Olson as saying he broke into the Mattson house, stole the boy and dashed down the precipitous cliff behind the home and reached the beach in pitch darkness. A rowboat was moored there and he rowed with the boy for several hours across Commencement bay to dash point, where he had parked his car, the confession said.

He then drove to Everett.

Cole said Olson denied he put the body where it was found 15 days later in newly fallen snow in a thicket near Everett.

"I wrapped the body up and buried it," Cole quoted him as saying. "One other man knew where the body was buried and he must have dug it up and moved it."

Cole said Olson said he strangled the boy, then beat him on the head and stabbed him. The condition of the body at the time it was discovered indicated the stab wounds were inflicted after death.

The settlement today deprived the count of an opportunity of defending himself personally against the charge, but his counsel asserted he had no intention of threatening the safety of his wife or doing her bodily harm.

Sir Patrick Hastings, the heir's attorney, told the magistrate he realized the count's alleged threats against his wife and a "gentleman in London society" might have been made "under stress of emotion."

He added that he was prepared to accept the assurances of the count's attorney, Norman Birkett, and had advised Countess Barbara that "whatever was said by the count at a particular moment it was not his intention to threaten the safety of his wife or do her any bodily injury."

New London—An irresistible force met an immovable mass when the two Lutheran teams of the Senior Men's league tangled in a softball game at the Washington High school diamonds last evening. Tied 6 and 6 and going into the eighth inning, the game was forced to stop because of rain and will have to be played over.

Team 1 is ahead in the standings by virtue of an extra game played but the squad took the initiative last night. They got a run to lead 7 to 6 in the first half of the eighth but the game couldn't be finished to make it a victory. Boese and Krueger were the pitchers.

The Edison joined the leaders by defeating the Methodist Men 11 to 10 in a close decision. The game was a tie most of the way and the winners forged ahead with the winning run in the first of the last inning.

Thursday evening the Lutheran Team 1 and the Edison will battle to remain at the top while Bordens and the Methodist Men will fight over the cellar position.

Motorcycle Club and Law Settle Arguments at Trial

New London—The New London Motorcycle club and city law enforcing authorities had it out with each other last night at a trial of John Luft, a member of the club, on a charge of reckless driving.

About a dozen members of the motorcycle club crowded with police and city officials into the limited space of Justice Rogers' court room, and with a suspicion of animosity on both sides.

The club didn't like what it termed an unfair charge. An hour later the trial had developed into a regular "bull" session and the discussions went merrily on. Rogers interrupting just long enough to say the case was dismissed.

One result is certain—a new and clear understanding was reached between the club and the law.

Arrested After Spill

Luft was arrested on a warrant by Chief of Police Harry Macklin on a charge of reckless driving following a mishap on N. Water street Saturday evening. Luft's machine spilled while making a U-turn at State street and slid into a parked car. He and a passenger, Mike McIlraith, escaped uninjured though marks on the pavement showed the machine slid for 94 feet, according to Harry Macklin.

Justice Carl Cahill of Hortonville, an ardent cyclist and secretary of the New London Motorcycle club, represented Luft at the trial. Cahill skidded on the crash bar and foot board, two small metal points that allowed the machine to slide easily on the pavement. Going into calculations and technicalities, he attempted to show that at 15 miles per hour it would require 36 horsepower to stop the motorcycle and it could easily slide 94 feet under the conditions.

As to the spill, McIlraith testified he threw Luft off balance when he turned to look back as the machine was tilted. Jerome Zaugg appeared as a witness and said he thought Luft was driving normally and that the fall was of a freak nature.

Recall Experiences

When the peculiarities of bike riding began to come up City Attorney Giles H. Putnam couldn't resist bringing his early experiences into the discussion and soon an informal round of chatter sprang up, involving most everyone present, including Motorcycle Officer Lawrence Schetter who attended while off duty.

In due time the law agreed to be lenient if members of the club would discontinue speeding up and down New London's main streets without regard to autoists, if they would stop cutting around cars and be more thoughtful of other drivers, if they would quit starting their machines from the curb with a leap and a roar as if they were really going somewhere, and in general try to live down the many complaints against their noise and general behavior.

Secretary Cahill reported much has been accomplished already by the newly formed club in promoting good conduct among members. Non-members as well as being encouraged to tone down their antics when in the city, he said. Authorities conceded there had been some improvement of late in the conduct of riders and a particularly marked quietness since Luft was arraigned Saturday evening.

Luft remained silent when he appeared in court Saturday, backed by indignant members of the club. The club became hostile then and authorities became just as determined to exact justice. But after last night—well, everybody went home happy.

Show Is Spectacular As Lightning Strikes Power Line Insulator

New London—The North Water street business section was treated to a spectacular sight yesterday afternoon when lightning struck the outdoor power equipment at the city light plant and broke an insulator, releasing 33,000 volts of electricity. The current produced a flashing 5-foot arc between the frame structures that attracted many eye-witnesses by its loud roar and brilliant flash. The show continued for about two minutes until the power was switched to another bank of insulators.

The flash occurred about 1:50 and set off the city fire whistle. There was no damage except the broken insulator, Ray Thomas, plant superintendent, reported after a preliminary checkup.

Plywood Protests Forfeit Decision

Manager Says Team Won't Play Until League Meeting Is Called

The forfeit was voted by four team managers at a league meeting Saturday night at which the Plywood was not represented. Zaugg declared the breach in the make-up schedule Friday was the result of a misunderstanding and that he was unable to attend Saturday's meeting nor find any one to represent the team.

The Plywood is now tied with the Mystery Boys and Gambles for first place in the first half and the playoff is planned for Saturday afternoon.

One of several rained out games in the Senior Men's league may fill in tonight if the Plywood threat holds.

Dislikes Training of Infant to Earn Money

BY ANGELO PATRI

A mother wants to know where she can have her four-year-old child tested to ascertain what degree of power in intelligence and in dramatic acting she has. "If she is a genius, and many of our friends say she is, I want to start training right away. If she isn't, then of course there is no use. Where can she be tested?"

I don't know. And I don't know of any test that will disclose the sort of genius this parent wants to find in her child. As far as my experience goes with such little children, and it is very limited, the genius stamping them stands out and no test is required.

It is just as well to say right at the start that, in my opinion, testing infants to discover what genius, if any, they possess, with an eye to training for the stage, radio and the movies, is just too bad. If the child has genius he has it, and no test alters the matter. If he hasn't, no test will help. Sometimes it injures the child because it is affected by the experience it has had, and such children usually have been taught some tricks by admiring elders. If these are what I call tricks, and not the expression of rooted genius, they falsify the record, and mislead teachers and parents.

I dislike the idea of infants being trained to earn money. I think childhood and infancy are sacred to growth, and working for a living comes after that. Adolescence is the time for training children to work, usually starting about the age of twelve and continuing for years to come. Most children grow that way best.

Artists are another matter. If training does not begin early here the art is likely to suffer, and the spirit of the child artist suffers as well. I would train artists early, from infancy on, with the utmost care. But tests for Art and Artists, I doubt them deeply. As for earning a living in infancy, I dread the effects of that on the children and on their parents.

Children who are professionals of the stage and radio and movies are usually children of professional parents working in the field of their gifts. No test is needed here. The bidding:

Although I fully appreciate West's method of maneuvering his vulnerable opponents in a cul-de-sac, I think he bore down a little too hard and jeopardized his own coup by his double. But perhaps he knew his opponents better than I do. Holding North's hand, any good player might "fall for" the two club bid and, vulnerable against the nonvulnerable overall, might decide to go out for a no trump game rather than even show the heart suit. But the double of three no trump should have struck North as quite a surprise, and in that sense should have awakened deep suspicion. Obviously, West could not be doubling on a club suit and, since North had the kings of spades and hearts, it was equally sure he could not be counting on a solid major suit. The diamond suit, however, was wide open from North's point of view and should have created a healthy uneasiness. South could not be blamed for staying in three no trump because, suspicious or not, he had no other place to go. North, however, had a good five card major suit and, as I have said, once his suspicions were aroused (which apparently they were) he should have spoiled West's coup by unloading to four hearts. All this reasoning, however, is beside the point of what actually happened.

West dashed off his six diamond tricks with more than a suspicion of floating, while his partner, who had been in the depths of despair, took a new lease on life and fawned upon

Tavern, Kaukauna Klub Battle Now Slated for Tonight

Undefeated Teams Will Clash in Postponed Tilt For League Title

Kaukauna — Kaukauna's softball fans have come down to the library grounds several times in the last two weeks to see the Kaukauna Klub and Kappell Tavern teams, the city's best, clash for the first half title in the Twilight league, but the presence of drops of water, besides those in the nearby canal, caused postponement of the contest. Tonight at 6:30 the players will try again, and the odds are that the contest will come off.

Neither team has dropped a game this year in the league, and each has its partisans. The Kappell bunch has put together more runs than the Klub, but the latter play a tight defensive game that the Taverns will find hard to get by.

A favorite topic for softball fans has been to argue just who is the town's best hurler. The choice lies between Ed Bloch of the Klub and Bill Alger of the Taverns, who will face each other for the first time tonight. Neither pitcher has been battered from the box this year, and whatever runs their opponents have tallied have come after their own mates built up topheavy leads.

The Klub will be decked out in their new blue and gold uniforms. Tonight's contest will conclude the first half play. The second half schedule will be announced at the end of this week. Clifford H. Kemp, recreational director, said yesterday.

Social Items

Kaukauna — Members of the Odd Fellows lodge, Rebekahs, their families and friends will enjoy a joint picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kuehl at Rapid Croche Sunday afternoon and evening. Kappell Team Loses To Valley Iron Works

Kaukauna — The Kappell Tavern softball team dropped a 6 to 1 decision to the Valley Iron Works squad of Appleton last night at Kemke's diamond. The Appleton battery was Bob Diever on the mound and Norm Kirk behind the bat. Kaukauna scored in the last inning when Howard Rader doubled and scored on two wild throws. The winners made two runs in the first, one in the second and fourth, and the final two in the fifth.

Plant Breeders Hope To Better Watermelon

Even watermelon can be improved by breeding, plant scientists of the United States Department of Agriculture stated in a bulletin received by County Agent R. C. Swanson. At the regional vegetable breeding laboratory near Charleston, S. C., several wild watermelons from Africa—its native home—have been introduced by the division of plant exploration and introduction. Federal and state plant breeders expect to use the high sugar content of these melons to increase the sweetness of the best commercial varieties now available. A sweeter melon, however, is only one of the goals at which the plant breeders are aiming. Modern home economy demands a smaller fruit than the 35 to 60 pound melons which do not fit in the small ice box. The plant breeders also feel that too little attention has been paid to producing a melon that will stand up well when shipped to distant markets. Added to this is the disease problem. Watermelons are susceptible to several diseases, including fusarium wilt, anthracnose, leaf spot, and blight. This calls for breeding for disease resistance.

BERRY PICKERS HARD AT WORK ON FARM NEAR KIMBERLY

This is not a picture of cottonpickers in an Alabama cotton field but a photograph of a good old berry patch, and raspberries at that. A Post-Crescent photo grapher happened on the scene at Zeeland's Berry farm near Kimberly where pickers began harvesting the crop of red raspberries Friday. The pickers get four cents a quart and must be over 14 years of age to qualify. This year's crop looks very good, the pickers say, and the price to the consumer averages about 15 cents a quart. Black raspberries also are grown on the farm. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Labels Will Tell More Under New Federal Food Law

New Act Requires Much Additional Positive Information

"Read the label" has been a good rule for a generation now, ever since there has been a Food and Drug act. This rule will become even better as the new Food, Drug and Cosmetic act of 1938 goes into effect, according to the United States Department of Agriculture in a notice received by R. C. Swanson.

Department of agriculture workers, who for years have been advising buyers to read the labels, predict that intelligent buyers who have already adopted the label reading habit will find a good deal of interest in the new labels.

As an example, special dietary foods will have to be labeled to inform buyers fully on the vitamin, mineral, and other dietary properties. Another provision requires that drugs and devices must be label to warn buyers against probable misuses that may be dangerous to health. Still another requires label warnings of the presence of habit-forming drugs. There are other provisions along similar lines.

Most provisions of the law do not go into effect until a year after the president signed the act on June 25, 1938. This will allow dealers to move current stocks under present labels. But most food and drug manufacturers will undoubtedly move promptly to get their labels into line with the new requirements.

The new labels will tell intelligent readers a good deal more about what they are getting when they buy.

With the general decrease in business activity, the supply of farm labor again exceeds the demand. On July 1, Wisconsin crop reporters indicated that the demand for farm labor was about 80 per cent of normal and the supply 95 per cent.

This increase in farm labor and the reduced purchasing power of farmers as compared with a year ago has caused a lowering of farm wage rates.

Wage rates on Wisconsin farms are about six per cent below those of a year ago. Rates per month with board average $32 compared with $34.75 a year ago, and monthly wages without board average $45 compared with $47.75 reported for July of last year. Some decrease in daily wages is also indicated, and farm laborers are now receiving $1.60 and board and $2.10 without board.

WITH Seymour and Manitowoc perched atop Northern State league standings, all squads will sweep into action tonight and the boom will be lowered for the nines are going after the second round title with a vengeance. Seymour travels to Green Bay and will have plenty of trouble on its hands. The Bays were upset by Manitowoc last Sunday and they'll be rarin' to knock off a league leader and get back into the pennant scramble. Kaukauna will be at home to Manitowoc and may be none too polite to their guests. The Electric City nine was bounced into a tie for first half honors when they dropped a 6 to 3 decision to Kimberly as Two Rivers took Seymour and they aren't very happy about the whole thing.

Two Rivers dropped a second half opener to Seymour Sunday afternoon and intends to get back into play dirt while the improving New London Miller High Lites expect to have a thing or two to say about that.

Defeats for Seymour and Manitowoc would throw the race wide open and next Sunday's games probably would be the most crucial battles in the second round.

DUMKE MAY PITCH
Kimberly — The Kimberly Papermakers of the Northern State league will meet Clintonville in a game at 8:30 Wednesday evening at the ball park. It will be the first showing of the second round for both clubs.

In addition to the regular hurling staff of Lefty Behr, Miller, and Call, manager Whitey Behrendt announced that Billy Dumke, strike out ace from New Holstein, who is the property of the Boston Red Sox, will be in a Kimberly uniform and ready to pitch if necessary.

Dumke who showed against Kaukauna two weeks ago fanned any amount of batters and with the exception of the first inning when the Brewers gathered two runs on a few miscues, Dumke held the vis-

KIMBERLY PAPERMAKERS BEGIN QUEST FOR SECOND ROUND TITLE TONIGHT

Kimberly Papermakers are set to open their quest for the second round Northern State league championship against Clintonville under their home lights tonight. When the above picture was taken, the team was in the process of dumping Kaukauna into a first place tie with Two Rivers for the first round title at Kaukauna Sunday morning and there's nothing they liked better than their Electric City rivals. Kimberly was scheduled to meet the Kaws in a second round opener Sunday evening but the rainmaker was working overtime and the tilt was washed out. The Clintonville-New London clash also was postponed because of rain and the Truckers and Kimberly will be battling to start out in the win column tonight. Members of the Kimberly squad in the picture are, left to right, Art Hofkens, Orville Bongers, Baker Versteegen, Tuffy Horn and Swen Bowman. (Post-Crescent Photo.)

Jimmy Hines Runs Into Denny Shute In P. G. A. Meet

16 Survive in National Golf Classic in Pennsylvania

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, Pa.—(AP)—They threw Jimmy Hines at defending champion Denny Shute, winner of 14 straight P.G.A. matches, in today's 36-hole third round of the pros' own national championship. But Jimmy wouldn't concede that they were throwing him to the lions, or even one lion.

"Somebody's got to beat Denny some day," said the blond from Great Neck, N. Y., who dropped a 4 and 3 decision to Shute in the 1937 quarter-finals "and there's no reason why it shouldn't be me. The mere fact that he's won those 14 matches certainly isn't going to scare me any — and I know that Denny's already beginning to worry about when his streak will end."

"He admitted as much last night, after he'd breezed through two rounds and I'd nosed out Frank Walsh. 'I'd a lot sooner have seen Frank win is what he said, and that's because he knows he's going to have a match on his hands.'"

For that matter, each of the 16 survivors on today's program had the same thing—"A match on his hands." Going right down the line, there were Byron Nelson against Harry Bassler, a Californian who's a consistent campaigner in his own territory; Marvin Stahl, the tournament prize discoverer from Lansing, Mich., against Jim Foulis, who knocked off Gene Sarazen a year ago; Sam Snead against Folsi Scarpin, surprise conqueror of Harry Cooper and Ky Laffoon yesterday; Billy Burke and Horton Smith. Ray Mangrum and ex-champ Paul Runyan, Sarazen and square-shoudered Jimmy Demaret, and Henry Picard and Dick Metz, who put out open champion Ralph Guldahl in the second round.

KRUEGER OUT
Shawnee-on-Deleware, Pa. —(AP)—Alvin (Butch) Krueger, of Bolot, Wis., was eliminated in the second round of the Professional Golf association tournament yesterday. He lost to Byron Nelson, of Reading, Pa., the 1937 medalist, on the 20th hole, where Krueger hooked his drive out of bounds.

Mellow Brews scored their first run in the initial frame when Cliff Burton hit a home run that landed near the edge of the pavilion in left centerfield. They collected five more in the fourth frame when Burton led off with a hard hit through short and Kelly and Kranszsch walked to load the bases. Burton was forced at the plate when Buesing grounded to third. Rule then walked to force Kelly across the plate.

Mortell batted for Powers and hit a pop fly to short centerfield that Captain got under and caught. Just as he did so, however, LaMarr ran into him and he dropped the ball. The scorekeeper gave Mortell a double and Kranszsch, Buesing and Rule crossed the plate. Mortell went to third on the throw to the infield and scored when Schuerer fumbled Ryan's slow roller.

This was not the first time that the bronzed rider had halted for a cautious backward glance. Many times during the past few days he had done so. Once or twice he had seen solitary horsemen, but they had been traveling different courses.

With a shrug he lit the cigarette, broke the match in two and let it drop. Some of the cold intentness left his glance as he faced front once more and kneed the buckskin into movement.

The lines of his face deepened as he thought of those drifting leather-slappers whose greedy lust for the reputation he did not want had taken them to hell on shutters. Bees Kill, Embalm Snakes Entering Hives to Eliminate Contamination

Neenah—E. E. Lamport, Neenah insurance man, an amateur beekeeper, vouches for the sanitary condition in which bees keep their hives.

Lamport has found by experiment that when a mouse or snake is placed in a hive, a swarm of bees will descend upon it and sting it to death. Unable to move the rodent or snake, the bees embalm it by completely covering it with wax to prevent contamination.

The amateur beekeeper told of his experiment in a talk Tuesday noon at a meeting of the Lions club at the Valley Inn. He sketched the beekeeping industry and displayed the equipment necessary to obtain honey.

"Honey," according to Lamport, "is only a by-product of the beekeeping industry." "Pollination is the chief function of the bee, and the importance of bees to horticulture as compared with honey is 20 to 1," Lamport declared.

Comparing the nutrition value of honey with other forms of sugar, Lamport told the Lions that unlike

Change in Radio Station Site Is Favored by Board

Appropriates $2,720 if Other Counties Pay Share of Cost

(Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau)

Oshkosh—The Winnebago county board yesterday tentatively appropriated $2,720 as the county's share towards the cost of moving the transmitter of WAKE, police radio station, to the Winnebago county farm, four miles north of Oshkosh.

The action is considered a step towards perfecting the Fox valley police radio system and will be carried out only if other counties affected vote to pay part of the cost of re-location.

The station now is located in the old Winnebago county jail on the site of the old courthouse. The move would involve erection of a building, antenna, remote control equipment, laying of a telephone cable and other miscellaneous expenses.

The ratio of expenditures for each county is determined by the assessed valuation. Shares of counties affected follow: Outagamie county, $2,240; Fond du Lac county, $2,080; Waupaca county, $960; and Winnebago county, $2,720.

Greater efficiency, clarity of reception and greater distance would be achieved by relocating the transmitter, board members believe. It was announced at the meeting that Green Lake and Calumet counties are interested in joining the hook-up. If they do the cost will be shared by the newcomers.

Money for Hopper Fight

R. C. Heffernan, county agent, asked the board to set aside $300 to finance the fight against grasshoppers this year. The board unanimously voted the money. Heffernan explained that grasshoppers are hatching now and if they are not killed now, they will destroy crops later. A poison will be purchased with the money and will be available to all farmers in the county who are bothered with hoppers. The cost will be absorbed by towns using the poison, which will be mixed by WPA labor.

A claim of $8.25, filed by Mrs. Anna Brodzinski, Menasha, for damage to bushes and trees by dogs, was disallowed. The board adjourned yesterday until November.

Motor Destroyed As Wire Burns Out In Storm Tuesday

Firemen are Called When Lightning Hits Transformer at Menasha

Neenah—Fred C. Mason, chief electrician at the Neenah Paper company, reported that a 15-horse power motor was destroyed and several others burned when an over head wire feeding the company's transformer was burnt out during a storm at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon.

Mason said that the wire either was struck by lightning or hit by a tree during the storm. The wire was split.

A bolt of lightning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon struck a transformer near Garfield avenue and Railroad street in Menasha, igniting the cross bar on the telephone pole. The Menasha fire department was called but the water and light department had extinguished the blaze. The transformer was destroyed and the cross bar shattered.

The same bolt of lightning is reported to have carried down a wire leading into the Gamsky Construction company office, Garfield avenue. According to Robert Schwartz, company bookkeeper, the lightning drilled a small hole in the wall. "It was just as if someone had thrown a stick of dynamite into the office," the bookkeeper said.

Starting Sunday evening, electrical storms have hovered over the Twin Cities almost incessantly. Flashes of lightning and thunder continued through this morning.

2 More Candidates Toss Hats in Ring For Assembly Post

Menasha—Two more candidates for the office of assemblyman from the Second district of Winnebago county have secured nomination papers at the office of County Clerk E. A. Hedke. John F. Grimes, town of Menasha, is the first Democrat to take out papers for an office to be voted on in Winnebago county in the November election.

James C. Fritzen, E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah, also has announced his candidacy for the office of assemblyman. Mr. Fritzen, a former Neenah postmaster, will be a candidate for the nomination on the Republican ticket.

Two other candidates previously announced their intentions of running. They are E. G. Sonnenberg, supervisor from the Third ward of Menasha, and Lyle J. Pinkerton, Neenah. Both are candidates on the Republican ticket.

Board Can't Force School Teachers To be Vaccinated

Loomis Rules Such an Order by a School Board Is 'Clearly Invalid'

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau) Madison—A city school board cannot require that all city school teachers and employees be vaccinated, Attorney General Orland S. Loomis ruled today in an opinion to the state department of public instruction at the request of Superintendent John Callahan.

The question originated in Oshkosh, where it is understood that a resolution by the Oshkosh board of education providing for compulsory vaccination of all teachers and employees threatened to provoke a religious controversy.

Such a resolution by a school board is clearly invalid under state law as an unreasonable exercise of the rule-making power, Loomis commented.

The powers granted to school boards for the government of schools, the faculty and employees cannot be arbitrary or unreasonable, he held, and "in the absence of a statute establishing compulsory vaccination of all pupils, it is our opinion that the regulation in question is invalid because it is not necessary for the preservation of the public health."

Vaccination is a form of medical treatment which the state law recognizes cannot be made mandatory upon every person," he wrote.

However, Loomis observed that his opinion does not mean that the board of education cannot require its teachers and employees to show satisfactorily that they are not presently afflicted with contagious disease.

The low price on dromedaries is due to the Paris exposition. When the North African exhibits closed up they left so many stranded on the market the price dropped to a new low.

Cats in Canadian Town Required to Wear Bells

Stavelay, Alta.—The tinkle of a tiny bell and the birds of Stavelay know the cat is coming. The cats in the little Alberta town seventy miles south of Calgary must wear bells.

Fred G. Flemming, known as the "cat man," had the belling-by-law adopted by the council two years ago in his campaign to "give the birds a chance." It has since been adopted by other Alberta towns plan to enact such a law or enforce those that were adopted but never made operative.

Stavelay's campaign to protect the birds has received international attention. Bird lovers in the United States, throughout Canada and in the United Kingdom have sent letters of commendation. Many sought information, planning to seek similar laws for their cities or districts.

Mississippians Tire Of Paying Interest On Defunct Railroad

West Point, Miss.—It has been going on for many years but eventually it is going to stop. West Point citizens are now paying interest on a $50,000 bond issue for a railroad that no longer exists.

The city paid $150,000 in interest on the bond issue over a period of 50 years but nothing on the principal. The City Fathers decided this couldn't go on forever and now a first payment of $1,500 on the principal has been made to the bondholders.

The bond issue was issued in 1888 to aid in the construction of a line between the Georgia and Pacific railroad through West Point instead of through a nearby town which wanted it.

Although the railroad no longer is in existence, the bond issue is just as big and fresh as ever.

Highway Body to Survey Proposed Road Improvement

Consider Black Topping Highway 125 for Connecting Link to City

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau) Madison—With no promises made, representatives of Outagamie county, the city of Appleton and the state highway commission Tuesday ended a conference with an agreement to have the division office of the commission at Green Bay determine how extensive an improvement program can be completed on Highway 125 with a proposed state grant of $15,000.

While the projected relocation of Highway 125 has failed to be realized, city and county officials told the state highway commission that they are anxious to have 125 improved in order to give the city an adequate connecting link (on the south side of Superhighway 41).

The improvement proposal includes the straightening of curves and black-topping of the road, according to Thomas Davlin, chairman of the state highway commission. The Green Bay division office in charge of D. E. Gilbert will investigate the proposal and report to the highway commission, which probably will arrange a later conference with city and county representatives, Davlin said.

Representing the city and county were Senator Mike Mack of Sheboygan, Mayor John Goodland, Frank Appleton, Outagamie highway commissioner, and members of the county highway committee.

America in Need Of Liberal Party, Lawrence States

Coercionists or New Dealers are New Tories
Of Today

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — Does everybody want to be a "liberal," or is it a term soon to be shunned because it stands in actual practice for intolerance and coercion?

President Roosevelt has been making speeches trying to convey the impression that "liberals" are the benefactors of mankind and "conservatives" are the hard-hearted enemies of progress. But the definition of a liberal is a reactionary or a Tory was accurately written many years ago when the terms first came to be used to describe the cleavage in the political parties in England.

History repeats itself quite often in human affairs. Today, just as 50 years ago, the "liberals" are claiming to be the humanitarian and liberty-loving party and are accusing their opponents of being against "social welfare" legislation, when the truth is the "liberals" of 1938 have adopted the tactics of "Tories" and have employed coercion rather than persuasion, compulsion rather than voluntary cooperation as their basic maneuver.

Back in 1884, Herbert Spencer, the famous English philosopher, wrote an essay calling the attention to the tendency of the so-called "liberals" of that time to forget true liberalism and indulge in the tactics associated previously with the weapons of the Tories. His essay might have been written in 1938, for it expresses the rival concepts which exist today between the pseudo-liberals who call themselves New Dealers, but who are in reality "new Tories," and the opponents of the New Deal, some of whom are really reactionaries, and some of whom are much more entitled to be known as liberals than are the members of the Roosevelt regime. Write Mr. Spencer 54 years ago:

Tories of New Type
"Most of those who now pass as liberals are Tories of a new type... dating back to an earlier period than their names, the two political parties at first stood respectively for two opposed types of social organization... in the one party there was a desire to resist and decrease the coercive power of the ruler over the subject, and in the other party to maintain or increase his coercive power."

Having thus defined the early liberals and the early Tories, Mr. Spencer points out that the Tories were being used by liberals who were losing sight of the traditional methods of their party. He enumerates the so-called liberal legislation of the '60's in England and says:

"Everyone of these involves further coercion—restricts still more the freedom of the citizen... thus either directly or indirectly, and in most stages both at once, the citizen is at each further stage in the growth of this compulsory legislation deprived of some liberty which he previously had. Such then are the doings of the party which claims the name of liberal; and which calls itself liberal as being the advocate of extended freedom."

Mr. Spencer went on to quote the usual answer made by the self-styled "liberals."

"You forget the fundamental difference between the power which, in the past, established those restraints which liberalism abolished, and the power which, in the present, establishes the restraints which you call anti-liberal. You forget that one was an irresponsible power while the other is a responsible power. You forget that if by recent legislation of liberals, people are variously regulated, the body which regulates them is of their own creating; and has their warrant for its acts."

Shackles on Freedom
Passages similar to the foregoing will be found in many speeches of the New Dealers of today. Thus, President Roosevelt, in one of his messages to congress, admitted the extension of governmental power, but said that, in the "hands of a people's government," there was nothing to fear, to be sure, in some other administration, he conceded these statutes were shackles on the freedom of the citizen.

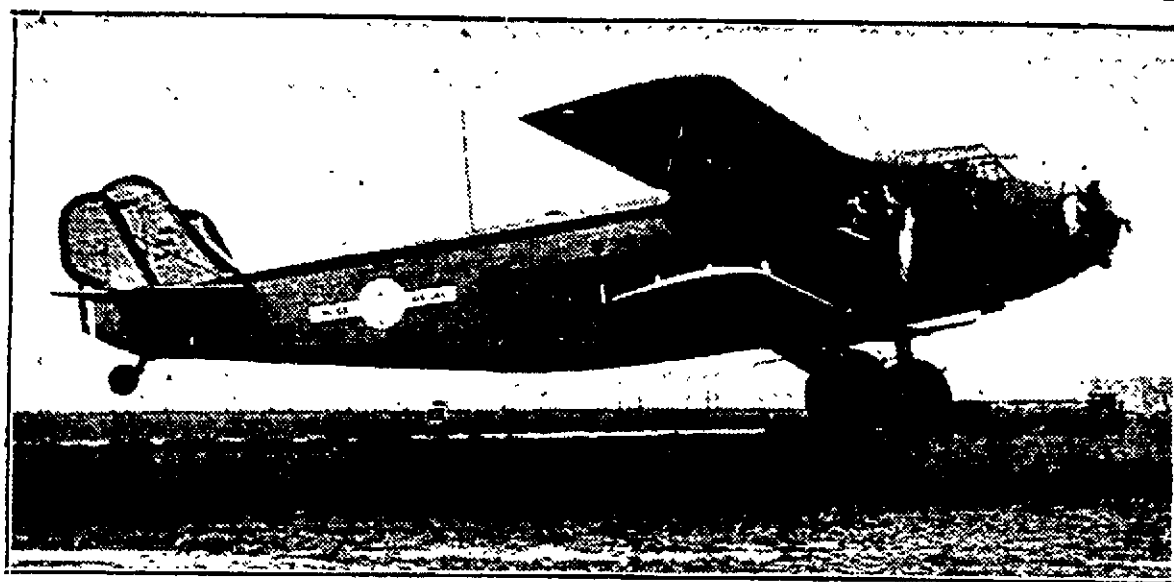

What Spencer argues is that coercion is not any less attractive because men consent to it. He adds, for instance, "If men use their liberty in such a way as to surrender their liberty, are they thereafter any the less slaves? If people by a plebiscite elect a man despot over them, do they remain free because the despotism was of their own making? Are the coercive edicts issued by him to be regarded as legitimate because they are the ultimate outcome of their own vote?"

Finally, Spencer concludes that the test is not the supposed "public benefit," because this can be selfishly interpreted. He says:

"Standing as it does for coercion by the state versus the freedom of the individual, Toryism remains Toryism whether it extends this coercion for selfish or unselfish reasons."

Remains Despot
"As certainly as the despot is still a despot, whether his motives for arbitrary rule are good or bad, so certainly is the Tory still a Tory, whether he has egotistic or altruistic motives for using state-power to restrict the liberty of the citizen beyond the degree required for maintaining the liberties of the citizen."

"The altruistic Tory as well as the egotistic Tory belongs to the genus Tory, though he forms a new species

LARGEST LAND PLANE WILL REACH CITY FRIDAY

Local aviation enthusiasts will have a 4-day chance, starting Friday, to ride in the largest land plane in the United States when the huge Boeing air liner, shown above, will be stationed at the county airport. J. M. Gilman, nationally known transport pilot who has more than 2,000 hours of flying to his credit, will pilot the big machine here from Fond du Lac.

Passenger-carrying flights will begin immediately after the plane arrives at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. It will remain at the county airport through Monday.

The ship carries 28 passengers, has a wing spread of 90 feet, weighs 18,500 pounds and is powered by three Pratt and Whitney Hornet motors totaling 1,225 horsepower. It is equipped with practically every known safety device and convenience, including a lavatory, cloakroom, individual ventilation, hot and cold water, electric starters and instruments, all-metal smoking compartment, radio and complete night flying equipment. The huge craft cost $110,000 to construct.

George Bath of the Bath Oil company will take a party of Appleton citizens to Fond du Lac Friday who will return here on the ship.

which he donned and placed in his gun belt, and empty holster. The big gun, he thrust into the waist-band of his trousers in such position that his open coat concealed it.

Sidelong glances disclosed to him that this end of town was not its best neighborhood. There were saloons with beer and soft-drink signs plastered on their windows, and other places of even less repute. There were machines parked along this ill-fitted street and here and there a pony doing beside a post.

Ankrom continued on his way until, passing a high false-fronted frame, he heard a woman's startled cry. The buckskin stopped of its own volition while Ankrom's tall form went tense. His eyes peered through the wavering shadows while he sat motionless. A banjo tinkled from a place several doors removed. A burst of laughter came from the building across the street. Thoughtfully Ankrom dismounted, trailed his buckskin's reins.

That startled cry had come from close at hand; from the frame before which he stood. And yet this seemed unlikely for the place was dark and shuttered. He stooped down beside his horse as though inspecting the clench.

Seconds passed and he finally straightened. He cursed himself for a fool; told himself this thing was none of his business. His proper course was to ride along. "Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you," he quoted softly, and was reaching for the horn with one foot of the genus. And both stand in distinct contrast with the liberals as defined in the days when liberals were rightly so called, and when the definition was—one who advocates greater freedom from restraint, especially in political institutions."

Maybe Mr. Roosevelt, who likes to quote Lord Macaulay every now and then and other British philosophers and historians as well, is fully aware of how he is misapplying the word "liberal." But, after all, the president frequently proceeds on the theory that, if he says it is so, this makes it so. Doubtless he thinks that, if he preempts the name "liberal," no other party will dare to use it. Unfortunately the Republicans have themselves yielded too often to Tory impulses, and what America needs today, as it has needed for a long, long time, is a truly liberal party to rid the nation of the "new Tories"—which, by the way, ought to be the real name given to the coercionists or New Dealers who believe in compulsion instead of voluntary cooperation.

lifting toward the stirrup when the cry came again.

Gleaming Metal
Slowly Ankrom set his foot down, the out-thrust arm returned to his side. He turned and stared at the wooden building. There was no movement among the shadows about its door.

"Extremely odd," he muttered and eyed the cries he'd heard had come from there. The last one had been a sort of gasp. Slowly, not quite knowing just what he was going to do, Ankrom started forward.

He was almost to the door when a scream cut the quiet. Thin and high it was and stopped abruptly as though a hand had roughly clamped across the mouth.

Ankrom hurried his body sideways. What warned him he did not know, yet even as he moved a gleaming thing of metal whizzed past three inches from his shoulder, embedded itself in the post beside his horse.

Toward that door Ankrom sprang quickly. The muscles bulged like ropes along Ankrom's jaw as his shoulder struck the door and smashed it. His momentum flung him across the threshold reeling into a room dimly lit by a lamp that showed him three men crouched before a wild-eyed girl who was lashed to a chair. By their clothes and evil faces he knew those men for city thugs. A gleaming branding iron was raised in the outstretched hand of the nearest.

As Ankrom caught his balance that man let drive with the red-hot iron straight at his head. Ankrom ducked. When he came up the right hands of the thugs were behind them in hip pockets and coming out weighted.

Ankrom had no choice. It was his life or theirs. One brown fist flashed beneath his coat and came out spitting flame in a steady stream. Deafening reverberations rocked the room and snuffed the lamp, plunging the place in blackness through which cut lance-like jets of fire.

Something struck Ankrom's right shoulder heavily, smashed him backward and whirled him half around. From the tail of his eye he saw a black shape slide out through the open doorway. For long moments, tensely alert, Ankrom crouched in the gloom with leveled gun. Nothing moved. Finally he struck a match.

One of the thugs lay slumped against a wall. Another was face down on the dusty floor with one arm outflung; the other doubled beneath him; his feet sprawled wide apart. The third had vanished.

The girl's eyes were upon him intently. There was some strange, unreadable emotion stirring in their depths. A dirty handkerchief had been bound across her mouth; no doubt placed there after she had screamed. He moved toward her where she sat lashed to the chair and her eyes remained steadily on his face. There was a question in them.

Streets to be paved include Fremont from Onida street to Carpenter street, E. John street from Walter avenue to E. South River street, and E. South River street from Onida street to Laws street.

Bids were received on concrete, sheet asphalt and asphaltic concrete. Both low bids were for concrete pavements.
